

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

BANKING DEPARTMENT,

ALBANY, March 15, 1918.

To the Honorable President of the Senate:

SIR.— In accordance with the provisions of the Banking Law, I have the honor to transmit to the Legislature the annual report of this Department, relative to savings and loan associations, the Land Bank of the State of New York and credit unions, for the year ending December 31, 1917.

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE I. SKINNER,

Superintendent of Banks

To the Legislature:

In compliance with the provisions of the Banking Law, I am submitting for your consideration that part of the annual report of this Department which relates to savings and loan associations, the Land Bank of the State of New York and credit unions. All of these corporations are strictly co-operative institutions. They differ in their management from savings banks, which are also mutual corporations, from the fact that their officers and directors are elected by the members instead of their affairs being managed and their officers elected by a self-perpetuating board of trustees named at the time of organization.

SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

The savings and loan system of this State dates back to the year 1851, when a bill authorizing the incorporation of "Building, Mutual Loan and Accumulating Fund Associations" was enacted. The building and loan movement in this country antedates this period by many years and, in fact, is said to have existed prior to the boasted co-operative systems of Germany and other European nations. It is sometimes claimed to have furnished a model for them.

The laws governing such associations in this State were until about twelve years ago in such condition as to permit many abuses and the present statute, which is as nearly perfect as the ingenuity of the founders of the present associations educated by some rather unfortunate experiences can make it, is the result of very careful consideration and successive amendments. It is only recently that the savings and loan associations of this State have commenced to take that place among its financial institutions to which, from their general usefulness to thrifty wage-earners and their special function of enabling wage-earners and laborers to obtain homes, they are entitled. It has been a source of great regret to those most interested in the movement that the farmers of the State have not adapted this co-operative system to their needs and made the same use of its opportunities as our urban population and the dwellers in villages. It is peculiarly gratifying to the advocates of the system that, in a year in which, with the co-operation of the officers of these mutual associations, the savings of the thrifty and industrious have been, through patriotic motives, so largely invested in Liberty bonds, the work of these associations has shown such great progress.

Notwithstanding the voluntary liquidation of a number of associations, the involuntary liquidation of another and the fact that only one new association actually began business during the year, the total resources of the savings and loan associations of the State increased over $6,400,000, and the total resources of such associations are now in excess of $86,000,000.

The original building societies were neighborhood affairs and terminated with the maturity of the shares of the original members. Many of those most interested in the progress of these associations in the early days believed, from the experiences of the so-called national building and loan associations, that it would be impossible to properly conduct large institutions of this character. I can remember when one national association heralded in glaring advertisements the fact that its total resources had reached one million dollars. Experience has proved, however, that large associations can be operated safely, provided their loaning territory is limited and they are managed by competent officers. At the present time there are no less than twenty-one strictly local associations having resources of over one million dollars each, and the largest of these associations has total assets of $4,318,148.

DISTRIBUTION BY COUNTIES

One of the most pleasing features of the savings and loan movement, in view of the lessons of thrift which such associations necessarily teach and the desire for home-owning which they promote and inculcate, is their very wide distribution geographically. Where well managed, moreover, they seem to thrive equally in small villages and in the large cities. Such associations are in existence in forty-seven of the sixty-two counties of the State, the number in a county varying from one to thirty-seven.

The following table gives the distribution of the associations reporting for the year 1917 by counties, together with their reported resources on the thirty-first days of December, 1916 and 1917, and the amount of the increase or decrease in such resources for each county during the year:

It appears from this table that the savings and loan associations of twenty-one counties reported resources of over one million dollars each, that there was an increase in the reported resources of every county except four, and that in only one of these counties was the decrease considerable.

MODEL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

The exceptional decrease shown in the reported resources of the savings and loan associations of the county of Bronx is due to the failure of the Model Building and Loan Association of Mott Haven as a result of the dishonesty of two of its officers. This failure is one of the rare cases in which the Department has been obliged to close a local savings and loan association on account of the criminal conduct of its officers, and was all the more remarkable from the good reputation that those officers had previously borne. The liquidation of this association has proceeded so rapidly that thirty-five per centum of their claims has already been paid to the investing members of the association, notwithstanding the involved condition in which its affairs were left as the result of the forgeries perpetrated.

EAGLE SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY

Mention has been made in recent reports of this Department of the affairs of the Eagle Savings and Loan Company, one of the surviving national building and loan associations, which not only suffered from the false theories originally adopted and the unsound methods practiced until prohibited by amendments to the Banking Law, but from two rather serious defalcations which were brought to light by examiners of this Department. Since the discovery of the last defalcation, its affairs have been further complicated by numerous suits brought by various members to have their claims preferred at the expense of the membership generally, on account of alleged false representations made by former officers, the probability being ignored that practically the same representations were made to all members of the same class. On account of the varied testimony in the individual cases, however, the courts seem to have been unable to formulate any general rule by which the rights of the various classes of members could be determined and, with only five shareholders opposing, the members have since the close of the year voted to go into voluntary liquidation, in accordance with the provisions of section 486 of the Banking Law.

ASSOCIATIONS VOLUNTARILY DISSOLVED

The Broadway Dry Goods Co-operative Building and Loan Association of New York and the Mutual Savings, Loan and Building Association, of Rome, voluntarily liquidated their affairs during the year, paying all members in full, and have been finally dissolved by orders of the Supreme Court.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS

The following table gives the names and locations of the savings and loan associations organized during the year, together with the dates upon which the organization certificates were approved and the dates when their authorization certificates were issued:

NAME	Location	Certificate approved	Date of authorization
Schiller Park Savings and Loan Association.....	Buffalo.....	Sept. 4, 1917	Sept. 5, 1917
Northern Westchester Savings and Loan Association.....	Pleasantville..	Sept. 14, 1917	Sept. 14, 1917
Cooperstown Savings and Loan Association.....	Cooperstown..	Dec. 26, 1917	Dec. 26, 1917

The Northern Westchester Savings and Loan Association and the Cooperstown Savings and Loan Association had not yet commenced business at the close of the year.

ASSOCIATIONS IN LIQUIDATION

A number of the associations have done no new business in many years and are in practical liquidation, although their names are still carried upon our roster and their reports are included in our tabulations. The following table gives the names and locations of such associations:

Elmira Mutual Building-Loan Association .....	Elmira.
Security Loan Association .....	Rochester.
Western Savings and Loan Association .....	Rochester.
Co-operative Building Bank .....	New York.
Harlem River Building, Loan and Savings Association .....	New York.
Mount Morris Co-operative Building and Loan Association .....	New York.

NATIONAL AND LOCAL ASSOCIATIONS

Although only two of the associations formerly classified as national building and loan associations are still engaged in active business, it seems only fair to the strictly local associations to separate their operations from those of the former national associations, although the present business of both classes of associations is governed by the same statute. The following are the associations formerly classified as national building and loan associations :

Central Savings and Loan Association .....	Albany.
Eagle Savings and Loan Company .....	Brooklyn.
Elmira Mutual Building-Loan Association .....	Elmira.
Western Savings and Loan Association .....	Rochester.
Bankers Loan and Investment Company .....	New York.
Co-operative Building Bank .....	New York.

ITEMS OF SPECIAL INTEREST

While the total reported assets of all the associations of the State were $86,072,829, an increase of $6,442,948, the assets of the local associations amounted to $82,393,412, an increase of $6,390,741, or 8.4 per centum. The membership of all the associations of the State was 199,571, a decrease of 743, while the membership of the local associations decreased 1,873, leaving a total membership in the local associations of 192,244.

The female shareholders constituted nearly one-third of the membership of these associations, there being 66,006 female shareholders, holding 499,476 shares. Eighteen of the associations, moreover, did not report the number of female shareholders. The local associations paid over $670,000 more to the holders of matured shares than during the previous year, the total amount so paid them being $4,673,756. The total amount paid to the holders of matured shares by all the associations was $4,688,167.

The extent to which these associations are used as a matter of temporary accommodation or their shareholders find themselves unable to carry their shares to maturity, is indicated by the amount of withdrawals paid. The total withdrawals paid during the year amounted to $15,746,205, of which amount $15,624,698 was paid by the local associations. This is $2,322,958 more than was paid during the preceding year.

Cash dividends were also paid to members to the amount of $359,412, making total payments to members during the year of $20,793,784, or more than one-fourth of the total resources of the associations at the beginning of the year.

The associations had cash on hand at the end of the year amounting to $2,878,357. The amount of money borrowed by them, however, at the close of the year amounted to $1,999,100, an increase of $700,000. It is believed that this increase is largely due to their endeavors to participate as fully as possible in the placing of Liberty Loan bonds, either by direct investment and sale or by the issue of national defense savings shares. Savings and loan associations either for themselves or their patrons subscribed for Liberty Loan bonds to the amount of $3,140,400.

One of the gratifying features of their reports is the continued increase in the guaranty funds of the local associations, consisting of the amounts set aside each year to meet unforeseen losses. The guaranty funds of the various local associations at the close of the year amounted to $2,310,012. The undivided profits of the local associations at the close of the year amounted to $1,415,465, giving them an aggregate surplus of $3,725,477, or nearly 5 per centum of all the dues and dividends credited to members, an increase during the year of $326,368.

The total surplus of all the associations of the State, including nationals, was $4,024,560, or 5.14 per centum of the various amounts credited to their members.

EARNINGS, EXPENSES AND DIVIDENDS

There is sufficient uniformity at the present time in the business methods of the various savings and loan associations of the State so that, while to some extent an approximation, the principal items of profit and loss can be inserted under general headings. The following table gives as nearly as is practicable the earnings and expenses of the two classes of associations, together with totals:

EARNINGS	Nationals	Locals	Totals
Fees received.....	$357	$36,115	$36,472
Fines received.....	183	38,777	38,960
Interest received.....	97,847	4,171,233	4,269,080
Premiums received.....	16,442	278,056	294,498
Rent received.....	62,587	75,992	138,579
Dividends forfeited.....	1,047	65,138	66,185
Totals.....	$178,463	$4,665,311	$4,843,774
EXPENSES
Paid interest on borrowed money and prior mortgages.....	$17,002	$109,946	$126,948
Paid salaries and clerk hire.....	24,719	318,597	343,316
Paid advertising, printing and postage.....	5,296	40,358	45,654
Paid rent.....	8,236	38,719	46,955
Paid repairs to real estate.....	16,963	32,296	49,259
Paid taxes, insurance, etc.....	26,011	52,003	78,014
Miscellaneous operating expenses.....	11,460	50,031	61,491
Totals.....	$109,687	$641,950	$751,637
Net earnings.....	$68,776	$4,023,361	$4,092,137

The total net earnings of all the associations of the State, according to this table, appear to have been $4,092,137, of which amount $4,023,361 was reported by the local associations. The dues and dividends credited to the members of these associations on the first of the preceding year amounted to $70,338,225, so that earnings were at the rate of over 5.7 per centum per annum.

The rate of dividends paid by 238 local associations upon their installment shares averaged five and three-eighths per centum, while 127 of these associations paid dividends on other classes of shares averaging four and one-half per centum per annum.

The two national associations still engaged in active business credited dividends upon their regular installment shares at the rate of six per centum per annum and paid dividends on other classes of shares at the average rate of five and five-eighths per centum per annum.

The operating expenses, or expenses of management, of the local associations during the year amounted to $447,705, or substantially $6.36 for each thousand dollars of accumulated capital, while the operating expenses of all the associations, including nationals, amounted to $497,416, or $6.78 for each thousand dollars of accumulated capital.

Upon the basis of resources, the economy exercised would be even more apparent, as the operating expenses of all the associations of the State would be $5.77 for each thousand dollars of reported resources and for the local associations $5.43.

LAND BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

In considering the total resources of the savings and loan system, there can very well be added the assets of the Land Bank of the State of New York, which amounted at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December, 1917, to over three-quarters of a million of dollars, an increase of nearly $300,000 during the year.

This institution was designed to be a central institution for the savings and loan associations of the State. It constitutes, to some extent, a clearing house for the operations of its members and bears about the same relation to them that the Federal Reserve Bank bears to its member banks. Its purpose is to furnish member associations with funds at a comparatively low rate of interest and to make liquid, to as great a degree as is possible, the land values of the State whether the lands are located in farming sections or in cities. But, as has already been noted, from lack of understanding of the opportunities presented or for other reasons, none of the co-operative systems of the State which have thus far been developed have become popular among farmers and even the savings and loan associations of the State already organized have quite largely failed to avail themselves of the advantages offered by membership in this institution. Every association of the State is eligible for membership, but, through the injection of politics, the Land Bank was nearly wrecked at the time of its organization, and the prejudices then created have never been entirely removed. It must be admitted, moreover, that present conditions are hardly suitable for its rapid growth and the development of the ideas underlying its organization. It is perhaps indicative of its real merits that it has made as much progress as it has and at some future time it may fully realize the expectations of its founders. Its growth does not appear to compare unfavorably with that of the Farm Land Banks practically organized and supported by the National Government. The following table gives the names and locations of the associations which are members of the Land Bank at the present time:

The Land Bank has a capital of $103,000, a surplus of $5,425 and total resources of $757,932.

It seems quite probable that, even during this period of high interest rates when the operations of all financial institutions are restricted by the enormous demands that are being made upon the financial resources of the country by the National Government, membership in this institution will prove valuable and the Land Bank may be able to demonstrate its usefulness.

CREDIT UNIONS

A credit union is the latest form of co-operative financial institution authorized by the laws of this State. The statute relating to credit unions is based partially upon the forms of co-operative finance existing in other countries and states and partially upon the experience of the savings and loan associations of this State. Credit unions were intended to enable wage-earners generally, by pooling their resources and their credit, to obtain small loans at reasonable rates and to assist farmers by the same means in procuring funds for productive purposes upon their personal credit. Although the formation of war savings societies and the sale of war savings certificates and war savings stamps will, in my judgment, affect to a considerable extent the business of these small institutions and will possibly prevent for a time their rapid growth, eleven credit unions were organized during the year 1917.

NEW CREDIT UNIONS

The following table gives the names and locations of the credit unions organized during the year, the dates on which their organization certificates were approved and the dates on which their authorization certificates were issued:

NAME	Location	Certificate approved	Date of authorization
New York Life Employees' Credit Union.....	New York....	Jan. 12, 1917	Jan. 17, 1917
Austrian Hungarian Credit Union.....	Brooklyn....	Nov. 14, 1916	Jan. 24, 1917

The Tribune Credit Union, Inc.....	New York....	April 13, 1917	June 7, 1917

Madison Avenue Credit Union.....	New York....	May 23, 1917	Sept. 27, 1917

The Japanese Credit Union did not begin business within the time limited and its corporate existence has been forfeited.

SUMMARY OF RESOURCES AND LIABILITIES

The following table contains a summary statement of the resources and liabilities of the credit unions of the State at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December, 1917, as reported to this department:

Resources
Loans to members.....	$319,869
Bonds.....	68,428
Shares of other credit unions.....	23
Cash on hand and in bank.....	74,205
Interest on loans due and accrued.....	1,857
Other assets.....	988
Totals.....	$465,367
Liabilities
Shares, fully paid.....	$308,735
Shares, installment.....	23,774
Unpaid dividends credited on shares.....	272
Amount due members for deposits.....	53,633
Borrowed money.....	16,610
Guaranty fund.....	13,266
Undivided profits.....	16,637
Interest accrued on deposits.....	157
Interest accrued on borrowed money.....	7
Other liabilities.....	32,276
Totals.....	$465,367

Although the law authorizing the organization of credit unions has only been in existence a short time, thirty-nine credit unions are now engaged in business in this State and, as appears by the foregoing table, they have accumulated total resources of $465,367.

The greatest difficulty that has been found in connection with the organization and operation of credit unions is the fact that they have been incorporated largely by people of such limited business experience that it has been hard to find capable officers, and especially secretaries with sufficient knowledge of bookkeeping methods to enable them to keep their records correctly or even to make proper reports to this department. This trouble has been encountered, notwithstanding the thoroughness with which applications for authorization have been investigated and so much care has been exercised that eleven applications for the authorization of credit unions were refused during the year.

CONCLUSION

The law relating to savings and loan associations, the Land Bank of the State of New York and credit unions will be printed in the appendix to this report. The appendix will also contain in slightly abbreviated form, the reports of all these corporations, together with summary statements of their resources and liabilities and, where reported, their receipts and disbursements. It will also contain a table giving the names, locations, dates of organization and dates of liquidation, if closed, of all savings and loan associations which have at any time reported to this department.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE I. SKINNER,

§ 239. Investment of deposits and guaranty fund and restrictions thereon.

A savings bank may invest the moneys deposited therein, the sums credited to the guaranty fund thereof and the income derived therefrom, in the following property and securities and no others, and subject to the following restrictions:

1. The stocks or bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith of the United States is pledged to provide for the payment of the interest and principal, including the bonds of the District of Columbia.

2. The stocks or bonds or interest-bearing obligations of this state, issued pursuant to the authority of any law of the state.

3. The stocks, bonds or interest-bearing obligations of any state of the United States, upon which there is no default and upon which there has been no default for more than ninety days; provided that within ten years immediately preceding the investment such state has not been in default for more than ninety days in the payment of any part of principal or interest of any debt duly authorized by the legislature of such state to be contracted by such state since the first day of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight.

4. The stocks, bonds, interest-bearing obligations, or revenue notes sold at a discount, of any city, county, town, village, school district, union free school district or poor district in this state, provided that they were issued pursuant to law and that the faith and credit of the municipality or district that issued them are pledged for their payment.

5. The stocks or bonds of any incorporated city situated in one of the states of the United States which was admitted to statehood prior to January first, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, and which since January first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, has not repudiated or defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any debt authorized by the legislature of any such state to be contracted, provided said city has a population, as shown by the federal census next preceding said investment, of not less than forty-five thousand inhabitants, and was incorporated as a city at least twenty-five years prior to the making of said investment, and has not, since January first, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, defaulted for more than ninety days in the payment of any part either of principal or interest of any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or effected any compromise of any kind with the holders thereof. But if, after such default on the part of any such state or city, the debt or security, in the payment of the principal or interest of which such default occurred, has been fully paid, refunded or compromised by the issue of new securities then the date of the first failure to pay principal or interest, when due, upon such debt or security, shall be taken to be the date of such default, within the provisions of this subdivision, and subsequent failures to pay installments of principal or interest upon such debt or security, prior to the refunding or final payment of the same, shall not be held to continue said default or to fix the time thereof, within the meaning of this subdivision, at a date later than the date of said first failure in payment. If at any time the indebtedness of any such city, together with the indebtedness of any district, or other municipal corporation or subdivision except a county, which is wholly or in part included within the bounds or limits of said city, less its water debt and sinking funds, shall exceed seven per centum of the valuation of said city for purposes of taxation, its bonds and stocks shall thereafter, and until such indebtedness shall be reduced to seven per centum of the valuation for the purposes of taxation, cease to be an authorized investment for the moneys of savings banks.

5. (a) The stocks or bonds of any incorporated city, county, village or town, situated in one of the states of the United States which adjoins the state of New York. If at any time the indebtedness of any such city, town or village, together with the indebtedness of any district or other municipal corporation or subdivision, except a county, which is wholly or in part included within the boundaries or limits of said city, town or village less its water debt and sinking fund, or the indebtedness of any such county, less its sinking fund, shall exceed seven per centum of the valuation of said city, county, town or village for the purposes of taxation, its bonds and stocks shall thereafter, until such indebtedness shall be reduced to seven per centum of the valuation for the purposes of taxation, cease to be an authorized investment for the moneys of savings banks.

(b) The stocks or bonds of any incorporated city situated in any other of the states of the United States which was admitted to statehood prior to January first, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, and which since January first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, has not repudiated or defaulted in the payment of any part of the principal or interest of any debt authorized by the legislature of any such state to be contracted, provided said city has a population, as shown by the federal census next preceding said investment, of not less than forty-five thousand inhabitants, and was incorporated as a city at least twenty-five years prior to the making of said investment, and has not, since January first, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, defaulted for more than ninety days in the payment of any part either of principal or interest of any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or effected any compromise of any kind with the holders thereof. But if, after such default on the part of any such state or city, the debt or security, in the payment of the principal or interest of which such default occurred, has been fully paid, refunded or compromised by the issue of new securities then the date of the first failure to pay principal or interest, when due, upon such debt or security, shall be taken to be the date of such default, within the provisions of this subdivision, and subsequent failures to pay installments of principal or interest upon such debt or security, prior to the refunding or final payment of the same, shall not be held to continue said default or to fix the time thereof, within the meaning of this subdivision, at a date later than the date of said first failure in payment.

If at any time the indebtedness of any such city, together with the indebtedness of any district, or other municipal corporation or subdivision except a county, which is wholly or in part included within the bounds or limits of said city, less its water debt and sinking funds, shall exceed seven per centum of the valuation of said city for purposes of taxation, its bonds and stocks shall thereafter, and until such indebtedness shall be reduced to seven per centum of the valuation for the purposes of taxation, cease to be an authorized investment for the moneys of savings banks.

6. Bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property situated in this state, to the extent of sixty per centum of the appraised value thereof. Not more than sixty-five per centum of the whole amount of deposits and guaranty fund shall be so loaned or invested. If the loan is on unimproved and unproductive real property, the amount loaned thereon shall not be more than forty per centum of its appraised value. No investment in any bonds and mortgages shall be made by any savings bank except upon the report of a committee of its trustees charged with the duty of investigating the same, who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged or to be mortgaged, according to their judgment, and such report shall be filed and preserved among the records of the corporation.

7. The following bonds of railroad corporations:

(a) The first mortgage bonds of any railroad corporation of this state, the principal part of whose railroad is located within this state, or of any railroad corporation of this or any other state or states connecting with and controlled and operated as a part of the system of any such railroad corporation of this state, and of which connecting railroad at least a majority of its capital stock is owned by such a railroad corporation of this state, or in the mortgage bonds of any such railroad corporation of an issue to retire all prior mortgage debt of such railroad companies respectively; provided that at no time within five years next preceding the date of any such investment, such railroad corporation of this state or such connecting railroad corporation respectively shall have failed regularly and punctually to pay the matured principal and interest of all its mortgage indebtedness, and in addition thereto regularly and punctually to have paid in dividends to its stockholders during each of said five years an amount at least equal to four per centum upon all its outstanding capital stock; and provided, further, that at the date of every such dividend the outstanding capital stock of such railroad corporation, or such connecting railroad company respectively shall have been equal to at least one-third of the total mortgage indebtedness of such railroad corporations respectively, including all bonds issued or to be issued under any mortgage securing any bonds in which such investment shall be made. If by means of consolidation a railroad corporation shall own and possess the properties and franchises which prior thereto belonged to similar corporations, and if the outstanding capital stock of the railroad corporation formed by such consolidation shall be equal to at least one-third of the total mortgage indebtedness of such railroad corporation, including all bonds issued or to be issued under any mortgage securing any bonds in which such investment shall be made, and if during the five years next preceding such consolidation no one of the consolidating railroad corporations shall have failed regularly and punctually to pay the matured principal and interest of all its mortgage indebtedness, and if in addition thereto during the five years next preceding such consolidation, the dividends paid in cash by one or more of such consolidating corporations have equaled or exceeded four per centum per annum upon an amount equal to the combined capital stock of the consolidating corporations as outstanding at the time of each dividend payment during such five-year period, such successor railroad corporation formed by such consolidation shall be considered as having regularly and punctually paid such matured principal and interest and such dividends equal to or exceeding four per centum per annum during the same period of five years, provided further that the amount of dividends paid in cash during each of such five years has equaled or exceeded four per centum per annum on the stock of the consolidated corporation as outstanding at the time of such consolidation.

(b) The mortgage bonds of the following railroad corporations: The Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, Michigan Central Railroad Company, Illinois Central Railroad Company, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Delaware and Hudson Company, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, Boston and Maine Railroad Company, Maine Central Railroad Company, the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company, Morris and Essex Railroad Company, Central Railroad of New Jersey, United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company, also in the mortgage bonds of railroad companies whose lines are leased or operated or controlled by any railroad company specified in this paragraph if said bonds be guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the railroad company to which said lines are leased or by which they are operated or controlled. Provided that at the time of making investments authorized by this paragraph the said railroad corporations issuing such bonds shall have earned and paid regular dividends of not less than four per centum per annum in cash on all their issues of capital stock for the ten years next preceding such investment, and provided the capital stock of any said railroad corporations shall equal or exceed in amount one-third of the par value of all its bonded indebtedness; and further provided that all bonds authorized for investment by this paragraph shall be secured by a mortgage which is a first mortgage on either the whole or some part of the railroad and railroad property of the company issuing such bonds, or that such bonds shall be mortgage bonds of an issue to retire all prior mortgage debts of such railroad company; provided, further, that the mortgage which secures the bonds authorized by this paragraph is dated, executed and recorded prior to January first, nineteen hundred and five.

(c) The mortgage bonds of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Saint Paul Railway Company, and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, so long as they shall continue to earn and pay at least four per centum dividends per annum on their outstanding capital stock, and provided their capital stock shall equal or exceed in amount one-third of the par value of all their bonded indebtedness, and further provided that all bonds of either of said companies hereby authorized for investment shall be secured by a mortgage which is a first mortgage on either the whole or some part of the railroad or railroad property actually in the possession of and operated by said company, or that such bonds shall be mortgage bonds of an issue to retire all prior debts of said railroad company; provided, further, that the mortgage which secures the bonds authorized by this paragraph is dated, executed and recorded prior to January first, nineteen hundred and five.

(d) The first mortgage bonds of the Fonda, Johnstown and Gloversville Railroad Company, or in the mortgage bonds of said railroad company of an issue to retire all prior mortgage debts of said railroad company and provided the capital stock of said railroad company shall equal or exceed in amount one-third of the par value of all its bonded indebtedness and provided also that such railroad be the standard gauge of four feet eight and one-half inches, and in the mortgage bonds of the Buffalo Creek Railroad Company of an issue to retire all prior mortgage debts of said railroad company, provided that the bonds authorized by this paragraph are secured by a mortgage dated, executed and recorded prior to January first, nineteen hundred and five.

(e) The mortgage bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of any of the United States, which actually owns in fee not less than five hundred miles of standard gauge railway exclusive of sidings, within the United States, provided that at no time within five years next preceding the date of any such investment such railroad corporation shall have failed regularly and punctually to pay the matured principal and interest of all its mortgage indebtedness and in addition thereto regularly and punctually to have paid in dividends to its stockholders during each of said five years an amount at least equal to four per centum upon all its outstanding capital stock; and provided further that during said five years the gross earnings in each year from the operations of said company, including therein the gross earnings of all railroads leased and operated or controlled and operated by said company, and also including in said earnings the amount received directly or indirectly by said company from the sale of coal from mines owned or controlled by it, shall not have been less in amount than five times the amount necessary to pay the interest payable during that year upon its entire outstanding indebtedness, and the rentals for said year of all leased lines, and further provided that all bonds authorized for investment by this paragraph shall be secured by a mortgage which is at the time of making said investment or was at the date of the execution of said mortgage (one) a first mortgage upon not less than seventy-five per centum of the railway owned in fee by the company issuing said bonds exclusive of sidings at the date of said mortgage or (two) a refunding mortgage issued to retire all prior lien mortgage debts of said company outstanding at the time of said investment and covering at least seventy-five per centum of the railway owned in fee by said company at the date of said mortgage. But no one of the bonds so secured shall be a legal investment in case the mortgage securing the same shall authorize a total issue of bonds which together with all outstanding prior debts of said company, after deducting therefrom in case of a refunding mortgage, the bonds reserved under the provisions of said mortgage to retire prior debts at maturity, shall exceed three times the outstanding capital stock of said company at the time of making said investment. And no mortgage is to be regarded as a refunding mortgage, under the provisions of this paragraph, unless the bonds which it secures mature at a later date than any bond which it is given to refund, nor unless it covers a mileage at least twenty-five per centum greater than is covered by any one of the prior mortgages so to be refunded.

(f) Any railway mortgage bonds which would be a legal investment under the provisions of paragraph (e) of this subdivision, except for the fact that the railroad corporation issuing said bonds actually owns in fee less than five hundred miles of road, provided that during five years next preceding the date of any such investment the gross earnings in each year from the operations of said corporation, including the gross earnings of all lines leased and operated or controlled and operated by it, shall not have been less than ten million dollars.

(g) The mortgage bonds of a railroad corporation described in the foregoing paragraph (e) or (f) or the mortgage bonds of a railroad owned by such corporation, assumed or guaranteed by it by endorsement on said bonds, provided said bonds are prior to and are to be refunded by a general mortgage of said corporation the bonds secured by which are made a legal investment under the provisions of said paragraph (e) or (f); and provided, further, that said general mortgage covers all the real property upon which the mortgage securing said underlying bonds is a lien.

(h) Any railway mortgage bonds which would be a legal investment under the provisions of paragraph (e) or (g) of this subdivision except for the fact that the railroad corporation issuing said bonds actually owns in fee less than five hundred miles of road, provided the payment of principal and interest of said bonds is guaranteed by endorsement thereon by, or provided said bonds have been assumed by, a corporation whose first mortgage is, or refunding mortgage bonds are, a legal investment under the provisions of paragraph (e) or (f) of this subdivision. But no one of the bonds so guaranteed or assumed shall be a legal investment in case the mortgage securing the same shall authorize a total issue of bonds which, together with all the outstanding prior debts of the corporation making said guarantee or so assuming said bonds, including therein the authorized amount of all previously guaranteed or assumed bond issues, shall exceed three times the capital stock of said corporation, at the time of making said investment.

(i) The first mortgage bonds of a railroad the entire capital stock of which, except shares necessary to qualify directors, is owned by, and which is operated by a railroad whose last issued refunding bonds are a legal investment under the provisions of paragraph (a), (e), or (f) of this subdivision, provided the payment of principal and interest of said bonds is guaranteed by endorsement thereon by the company so owning and operating said road, and further provided the mortgage securing said bonds does not authorize an issue of more than twenty thousand dollars in bonds for each mile of road covered thereby. But no one of the bonds so guaranteed shall be a legal investment in case the mortgage securing the same shall authorize a total issue of bonds which together with all the outstanding prior debts of the company making said guarantee, including therein the authorized amount of all previously guaranteed bond issues, shall exceed three times the capital stock of said company, at the time of making said investment.

Bonds which have been or shall become legal investments for savings banks under any of the provisions of this section shall not be rendered illegal as investments, though the property upon which they are secured has been or shall be conveyed to another corporation, and though the railroad corporation which issued or assumed said bond has been or shall be consolidated with another railroad corporation, if the consolidated or purchasing corporation shall assume the payment of said bonds and shall continue to pay regularly interest or dividends or both upon the securities issued against, in exchange for or to acquire the stock of the company consolidated or the property purchased or upon securities subsequently issued in exchange or substitution therefor, to an amount at least equal to four per centum per annum upon the capital stock outstanding at the time of such consolidation or purchase of said corporation which has issued or assumed such bonds.

Street railroad corporations shall not be considered railroad corporations within the meaning of this subdivision.

(b) Promissory notes made payable to the order of the savings bank upon demand by a savings and loan association of this state which has been incorporated for three years or more and has an accumulated capital of at least fifty thousand dollars.

(c) Promissory notes made payable to the order of the savings bank within ninety days from the date thereof secured by the assignment and pledge to it of one or more first mortgages on real estate situated in the state of New York, provided that the amount of any such note is not in excess of sixty per centum of the appraised value in the case of improved real estate, or forty per centum in the case of unimproved or unproductive real estate, of the property or properties mortgaged; that the amount of any such loan shall not exceed seventy-five per centum of the principal sum secured by said mortgage or mortgages; that the value of said properties has been certified in accordance with the provisions of subdivision six of this section; that the assignment of each of such mortgages has been recorded in the proper offices and the provisions of section two hundred forty-one of this chapter with reference to the title of the property and the insurance upon the buildings, covered by such mortgage or mortgages, shall have been fully complied with. Such loans shall be considered mortgage loans and the amount thereof together with all direct loans by any such savings bank upon bonds and mortgages shall not exceed sixty-five per centum of the whole amount of the deposits and the guaranty fund of any such savings bank.

(d) Promissory notes made payable to the order of the savings bank within ninety days from the date thereof, secured by the pledge and assignment of the passbook of any savings bank in the state of New York as collateral security for the payment thereof. No such loan shall exceed ninety per centum of the balance due the holder of such passbook as shown therein.

10. Bonds of the land bank of the state of New York.

11. Bankers' acceptances and bills of exchange of the kind and maturities made eligible by law for rediscount with federal reserve banks, provided the same are accepted by a bank, national banking association or trust company, incorporated under the laws of the state of New York or under the laws of the United States and having its principal place of business in the state of New York. Not more than twenty per centum of the assets of any savings bank less the amount of the available fund held pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred fifty-one of this chapter, shall be invested in such acceptances. The aggregate amount of the liability of any bank, national banking association or trust company to any savings bank for acceptances held by such savings bank and deposits made with it shall not exceed twenty-five per centum of the paid-up capital and surplus of such bank, national banking association or trust company and not more than five per centum of the aggregate amount credited to the depositors of any savings bank shall be invested in the acceptances of or deposited with a bank, national banking association or trust company of which a trustee of such savings bank is a director.

§ 239-a. A savings bank may also invest moneys deposited therein, the sums credited to the guaranty fund thereof and the income derived therefrom in:

1. Judgments heretofore or hereafter obtained against the state, for or on account of any liability or obligation heretofore created or incurred by the state.

2. Contracts entered into by the special examiner and appraiser of canal lands and the owner of lands, structures and waters or property rights pertaining thereto or connected therewith, heretofore appropriated or damaged by the state in the construction of the improved canals, as provided for by chapter one hundred and ninety-five of the laws of nineteen hundred and eight and acts amendatory thereof.

And it is hereby authorized to purchase, take an assignment of, hold, sell and assign said judgments and contracts, and to liquidate and settle the same with the state as hereinafter provided.

On obtaining a judgment or entering into a contract, and on the approval by the attorney-general of the title to lands, structures and waters appropriated or damaged, as herein provided, the attorney-general may certify such approval to the person or persons entitled to payment by reason of such appropriation or damage, in duplicate.

Every such assignment and every subsequent assignment thereof by the bank shall be in duplicate and set forth the postoffice address of the assignee; and one copy thereof must be forthwith filed by the assignee with the comptroller.

On the assignment of such judgment or contract to a savings bank, the assignor shall thereupon deliver to such savings bank the duplicate certificates of the attorney-general, one of which shall thereupon be filed by such savings bank with the state comptroller.

The comptroller is hereby authorized and it shall be his duty to pay to such savings bank immediately upon the effecting of any such assignment and the filing thereof with him, the interest, if any, accrued on such judgment or contract debt to the time of the effecting of the assignment, and he shall on the first day of January of each year, until the judgment or contract debt is paid in full, pay to such bank or its assigns the interest which has accrued thereon since the time of effecting the assignment, provided, however, that the comptroller may at any time serve upon such bank or its assignee, either personally or by mailing the same to the postoffice address given in the assignment, a notice to the effect that funds are available for the payment of the same and that he is authorized and ready to issue his warrant to pay the same, whereupon it shall be the duty of every such assignee to accept such payment. Interest shall be allowed and paid by the state on each such judgment or contract so assigned until the twentieth day after the service by the comptroller of the aforementioned notice or until payment, if payment be sooner made. At any time after such assignment and certificate by the attorney-general shall be filed with the comptroller, the comptroller may demand of the attorney-general that the abstract of title and certificate of search as to incumbrances and all releases, waivers, contract settlements, conveyances and other instruments affecting such title be filed forthwith in the office of the comptroller. The filing thereof shall thereupon authorize the comptroller to make payment as hereinabove provided.

In determining the value of the assets or property held by a savings bank or of said judgments or contracts the superintendent of banks shall value such judgments and contracts at the face value thereof with accrued interest.

A savings bank shall not purchase any such judgments or contract and take an assignment thereof unless such assignment shall be indorsed with the approval of the attorney-general, and, upon said approval being so indorsed, the judgment or contract assigned shall thereby become and remain until paid a valid obligation of the state to the assignee thereof, or to its successor or assigns, for the amount therein specified.

The word "judgment" as used in this section includes and is intended to be synonymous with the words "determination" and "award".

§ 377. When corporate existence begins.

When the superintendent of banks shall have approved the organization certificate and the proposed by-laws, and shall have issued his authorization certificate as provided in section twenty-four of this chapter, the corporate existence of the association shall begin.

§ 378. General powers.

In addition to the powers conferred by the general corporation law, every savings and loan association shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations contained in this article and its by-laws, have the following powers:

1. To issue the shares described in section three hundred eighty-three of this article to persons qualified for membership, and deliver to them certificates or pass-books representing such shares; to receive from its members the sums of money, or dues, payable on such shares; to invest the moneys so received in the property and securities prescribed in section three hundred eighty-four of this article; to borrow money as provided in section three hundred eighty-eight of this article; to declare and credit dividends in the manner prescribed in this article; and to exercise by its board of directors or duly authorized officers, agents or representatives, subject to law, all such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of a savings and loan association, in accordance with the intent and purpose of this article.

2. To charge an entrance or membership fee upon shares issued by it, and to permit the transfer of shares upon the payment of a transfer fee and upon compliance with its by-laws.

3. To charge premium or interest in excess of the legal rate, upon loans to members; to fine members who fail to pay punctually the sums of money, or dues, required upon their shares, or the interest or premium upon the loans obtained by them; to impress a lien upon the shares of any member to the extent of any lawful fines or other obligations due to it.

4. To mature shares and pay to the holders thereof the matured value of such shares; to permit members to withdraw their shares and pay to such members the withdrawal value thereof; to retire shares and pay to the holders of the shares so retired the full value thereof; and to suspend and forfeit shares held by delinquent members.

5. To assign to the land bank of the state of New York bonds and mortgages and other securities owned by the association as security for the payment of debenture bonds issued for its account; to guarantee the payment of such debenture bonds; to exercise such other powers as may be conferred upon member associations of such land bank; and to perform such duties and obligations as may be lawfully required of such member associations.

6. To do all other acts authorized by this article.

Any savings and loan association, duly organized under any law of this state and engaged in business prior to April sixteen, nineteen hundred and fourteen, may invest in shares of the land bank of the state of New York and exercise all the powers conferred by subdivision five of this section, by the affirmative vote of a majority of its board of directors, taken by ayes and nays, and duly recorded in the minutes of said board and may, by like authority, elect a representative to vote at meetings of the land bank, nominate a director or directors of such land bank, and exercise all the powers conferred by law upon member associations of such land bank, without amending its by-laws and notwithstanding any restriction upon its investments contained in such by-laws on April sixteen, nineteen hundred and fourteen.

§ 379. Membership, dues and capital.

The members of a savings and loan association shall be only those persons to whom its shares have been issued or transferred, in accordance with the provisions of its by-laws. Their membership shall continue until such shares have been matured and paid, withdrawn, retired, suspended or forfeited. The payments made to any such association upon shares issued by it shall be called "dues." They shall be paid in such sums and at such times as are provided by the by-laws until the shares reach their matured value, are withdrawn, retired or forfeited. The capital of every such association shall consist of the dues and dividends credited to its members upon their shares either individually or by series.

§ 380. Shares in names of two persons or of person acting in fiduciary capacity.

When shares shall have been issued in the name of two persons, or their survivor, in either joint or several form, the right to vote upon such shares at any meeting of the association shall be no greater than if the shares were held by an individual, and payment to either person shall discharge the liability. Upon the death of either of such joint owners, the association shall be liable only to the survivor.

Persons who hold shares in a fiduciary capacity shall have all the rights and privileges of membership except the right to hold office. Whenever a person holding shares in such capacity dies and no notice of the revocation or termination of the trust shall have been given to the association in writing, the withdrawal value of the shares or any part thereof, may be paid to the beneficiary. The association shall not be liable to beneficiaries for moneys paid to their guardians or trustees on account of such shares.

§ 381. Matured value of shares hereafter issued.

All shares hereafter issued by any savings and loan association shall have a matured value of not less than one hundred and not more than two hundred dollars; except that any association incorporated prior to January first, nineteen hundred six, which has issued instalment shares, before this act takes effect, having a matured value of two hundred and fifty dollars per share, may, with the written approval of the superintendent of banks, continue to issue such shares.

§ 382. Character of association; dividends, how credited.

Every savings and loan association shall be either permanent or serial in character. A permanent association may issue shares at any time and credit dividends thereon in the pass-books of its members. A serial association shall issue its instalment shares in series and credit the dividends apportioned to such shares by series; but no additional shares shall be issued in any series after a dividend has been credited thereto unless the person to whom such shares shall be issued shall pay therefor the book value of such shares at the last declaration of dividends plus the dues payable thereon since such declaration, with accrued interest. Dividends credited by serial associations upon other classes of shares issued by it may be credited in the pass-books of its members.

§ 383. Classes of shares; dues thereon; when payable; their participation in apportioned profits.

Shares in any savings and loan association that have been transferred to it as security for the repayment of a loan, shall be called "pledged shares." Shares which have not been so transferred shall be called "free shares." Any such association may, when so provided in its by-laws, issue:

1. Instalment shares, with full participation in all dividends that may be declared by such association, and upon which a regular stipulated payment of dues shall be made at stated periods expressed in its by-laws, until such shares reach their matured value or are withdrawn, retired or forfeited; or with no participation in such dividends, the dues being payable thereon in regularly increasing amounts at stated periods expressed in its by-laws, and being immediately applied in reduction of a debt due to the association from the holder thereof in accordance with a direction given by him.

2. Savings shares, which shall participate in the dividends apportioned by the association and shall be credited therewith at a rate not less than sixty per centum nor more than ninety per centum of the rate of dividend apportioned and credited to instalment shares, as the by-laws shall provide, and upon which dues shall be paid in such sums and at such times as the holder thereof may elect, until the shares reach their matured value, are withdrawn or retired.

3. Accumulative prepaid shares upon which a single payment of dues to the amount of fifty dollars or more per share shall be paid at the time when such shares are issued. The dividends on these shares shall not exceed the dividends apportioned and credited to instalment shares, and the whole or a part of the dividends apportioned to these shares shall be credited to them until such shares are matured, withdrawn or retired. Any balance of such dividends not so credited shall be paid in cash.

4. Income shares, upon which a single payment of dues amounting to one hundred dollars per share shall be paid at the time when such shares are issued. The dividends on these shares shall be paid in cash at a rate not exceeding at any time the rate at which dividends are apportioned and credited to instalment shares. Income shares may be issued which shall not be withdrawable until the expiration of fixed periods, not exceeding ten years, if the by-laws so provide. Whenever income shares are issued which are not withdrawable until the expiration of a fixed period, the statement that they are not withdrawable until the expiration of such fixed period shall be printed upon the face of the certificate of shares in type of the same size as that used in the body of the certificate.

5. Juvenile savings shares, which may be issued in the name of any minor. Such shares shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of the minor and free from the control or lien of any other persons. The dues paid upon these shares, together with the dividends credited thereto, may be withdrawn by the person in whose name they were issued during his minority, and his receipt or acquittance shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the association for such accumulated savings, together with the dividends credited thereon, or any part thereof. Juvenile savings shares shall not be chargeable with losses of any kind, nor shall the holder thereof be required to make regular or specific payments, nor shall they entitle him to vote at any meeting of shareholders. Such shares may be credited with dividends at a rate not less than sixty per centum nor more than ninety per centum of the rate of dividend apportioned and credited to instalment shares, as the by-laws shall provide. The matured value of all the juvenile savings shares issued by an association shall not exceed in the aggregate, at the time of issue, twenty-five per centum of the aggregate matured value of existing shares of all other classes.

6. National defense savings shares having a matured value of one hundred dollars each, upon which dues shall be paid in such sums and at such times as the holders thereof may severally elect, until the accumulation thereon reaches such matured value, is withdrawn or retired. All the moneys received by the association upon such shares shall be invested in stocks or bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, and shall be withdrawable at the option of the association by the delivery to the holder of such shares, of such obligations of the United States or from the proceeds of the sale of such obligations, provided that such withdrawal shall be upon a ratable and proportionate value of such obligations at the time of such withdrawal. National defense savings shares shall, as to principal to the full amount thereof, be a first lien upon all such obligations and shall, as to dividends, participate solely but equally and ratably in the entire income derived from the interest upon such investments herein provided. Such shares and the income derived from such investments shall not be subject to the provisions of sections three hundred and ninety-four and three hundred and ninety-five of this article, and may be issued by a majority vote of the board of directors of any such association, duly recorded in its minutes, by ayes and nays, notwithstanding any restriction upon the issuance of shares or the determination, apportionment, crediting or dividing of its gross and net earnings contained in the by-laws of such association.

§ 384. Loans and investments.

Subject to the provisions of this article and its by-laws, any savings and loan association may invest the funds received by it as follows:

1. In loans to its members:

(a) Upon their bonds secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of instalment shares having a matured value at least equal to the amount of such loans and further secured by mortgages upon real estate.

(b) Upon their bonds secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of instalment shares having a matured value at least equal to the amount of such loans and further secured by mortgages upon real estate, by the terms of which the dues paid by the borrower, may, by his direction, be immediately applied in reduction of his indebtedness; provided, however, that the yearly payment of dues and interest required on any such loan shall not be less than twelve per centum of the amount lent, if such amount is in excess of seventy per centum of the appraised value of the real estate described in the mortgage, determined in accordance with subdivision four of section three hundred eighty-six of this article, and not less than nine per centum of the amount lent, if such amount is in excess of sixty per centum and not more than seventy per centum of such appraised value; and provided further that no premium shall be charged upon any such loan.

(c) Upon their notes secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of shares not previously transferred or pledged to it, the withdrawal value of which shall exceed the amount of any such loan, and all charges that may accrue for a period of six months upon such loan and upon the shares so transferred and pledged.

Any such bonds, mortgages or notes taken by any such association from its members shall be deemed conditioned upon the performance of the provisions of this article and the by-laws of the association relating to the payment of loans, premium, interest, dues, fees and fines, although the same may not be fully expressed therein.

2. In real property as follows:

(a) A plot whereon there is or may be erected a building or buildings suitable for the convenient transaction of its business, from portions of which, not required for its own use, a revenue may be derived.

(b) Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

(c) Such as it shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees or mortgages held by it.

3. In shares of the land bank of the state of New York, not to exceed ten per centum of its resources at the time of such investment.

4. If at any time it has funds in excess of the amount needed for loans to its members and the payment of matured shares and withdrawals:

(a) In lawfully issued obligations of the land bank of the state of New York.

(b) In securities which are authorized as investments for savings banks in section two hundred thirty-nine of this chapter.

(c) In bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real estate situated in the state of New Jersey to the extent of sixty per centum of the value thereof; provided that the real estate is "improved" as such term is defined in subdivision five of section three hundred eighty-six of this article and is located within fifty miles of the place of business of such association.

(d) In loans to other savings and loan associations.

§ 385. Premium, premium plan, and restrictions.

Any savings and loan association may charge premium or interest in excess of the legal rate upon loans to its members, if the by-laws so provide, upon one and only one of the following premium plans, the amount of premium being determined either by agreement or by bidding for the loan in open meeting:

1. The instalment premium plan, in which the premium shall be a certain sum of money per share which the borrower shall pay with each stipulated payment of interest, in addition to such interest.

2. The premium-interest plan, in which the premium shall be included in the rate of interest which the borrower shall pay upon his loan during the continuance of such loan.

3. The gross premium plan with proportionate rebates for the unexpired period of the loan, upon repayment thereof before maturity, or upon foreclosure of the security held thereon. Such premium may be paid in one sum, deducted from the amount of the loan or included in the amount of the mortgage. The earned portion of such gross premium shall be determined by dividing by the face of such loan the total dues and dividends credited upon the shares transferred as collateral security. The unearned or rebatable portion of such premium shall be carried as a liability on the books of such association, and at each distribution of profits the earned portion of the premium as determined above may be transferred therefrom to the current earnings of the association. Such gross premium shall not exceed ten per centum of the matured value of the shares transferred as collateral security, nor shall the gross premium charged and collected, when taken together with the interest, either when the loan is repaid, or foreclosed, amount to more than the income which would have been derived from such loan had such premium and interest been charged upon the premium-interest plan at the rate of eight per centum per annum.

Any association which has heretofore agreed to rebate any portion of the gross premium included in its mortgage loans shall hereafter carry the unearned or rebatable premium as a liability upon its books; and no association shall hereafter rebate or repay to a borrowing member any portion of the gross premium included in its mortgage loans existing on the first day of January, nineteen hundred eleven, unless such unearned or rebatable premium is shown as a liability upon its books. Except as hereinbefore provided, any association which has heretofore made mortgage loans upon the gross premium plan without rebates, and has not agreed to rebate or repay to borrowing members the gross premium included in its mortgage loans existing on the first day of January, nineteen hundred eleven, and which did not on or before such day treat any portion of such gross premium as a liability, shall not hereafter rebate or repay to its members any portion of such gross premium.

The member of any such association who shall agree to pay the highest premium shall be entitled to a loan in preference to other members, upon giving the security required. If, however, such borrower neglects to furnish security satisfactory to the board of directors within a reasonable time, his right to the loan shall be forfeited, and he may be charged with all the necessary expenses incurred by such association in arranging for the proposed loan. The interest and premium charged by any such association on loans to members, when taken together, shall not exceed eight per centum per annum, upon the sum actually lent, except that when any such loan shall be secured by a mortgage upon real estate, upon which real estate there is any prior mortgage, lien or encumbrance, interest and premium not exceeding eight per centum per annum may be charged upon the amount of the prior or underlying mortgages, liens or encumbrances, from the date of the execution of the junior mortgage, and upon the sums actually advanced by such association, from the date of their payment.

The directors of any association which, prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred eleven, charged its borrowing members interest and premium in excess of the annual rate of eight per centum may classify its shares according to the date of issue, and in the declaration of dividends may apportion to shares issued prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred eleven, any income derived from such loans theretofore made in excess of such rate.

§ 386. Restrictions on real estate mortgages.

No savings and loan association shall:

1. Take a mortgage upon real estate located more than fifty miles from its place of business, except a purchase money mortgage on property sold by it.

2. Take a mortgage upon real estate which is not a first lien upon the property described in such mortgage, unless every prior mortgage, lien or encumbrance thereon is owned by it, except as provided in subdivision three of this section, and no such prior mortgage, lien or encumbrance shall be sold, transferred or assigned by such association until every subsequent mortgage, lien or encumbrance owned by it shall have been fully paid and satisfied.

3. Take a mortgage upon real estate upon which there are any prior mortgages, liens or encumbrances not owned and held by it, except upon the following terms and limitations:

(a) No sum of money shall be invested in a bond or mortgage upon real estate if such sum, together with the amount of all prior mortgages, liens or encumbrances upon the real estate described in such mortgage, exceeds seventy-five per centum of the appraised value of such real estate, as provided in this section.

(b) No such loan or investment shall be made upon vacant or unimproved real estate or upon the gross premium plan.

(c) If any such association shall have lent or invested any portion of its funds in bonds and mortgages upon real estate upon which there are any prior mortgages, liens or encumbrances, it shall invest not less than fifteen per centum the first year, twenty per centum the second year, and thereafter twenty-five per centum of its receipts available for lending purposes in the same securities in which savings banks are, by section two hundred thirty-nine of this chapter, authorized to invest their deposits and the income therefrom, until the sums so invested shall amount to at least twenty-five per centum of all mortgages, liens and encumbrances underlying the mortgages or liens held by such association. The sums so invested shall hereafter be maintained at twenty-five per centum of such underlying mortgages, liens and encumbrances, except that after such fund shall amount to fifteen per centum of all such underlying mortgages, liens and encumbrances, any portion thereof in excess of such fifteen per centum may, in case of emergency, be used in the payment of withdrawals.

(d) No such association shall invest in any bond and mortgage on real estate upon which there are any prior or underlying mortgages, liens or encumbrances, if the aggregate of all the prior or underlying mortgages, liens and encumbrances on real estate upon which it holds mortgages or to which it has taken title, together with the money borrowed by it, exceeds or by the making of such investment will exceed twenty per centum of its accumulated capital, or two thousand dollars if its accumulated capital is not more than ten thousand dollars.

(e) No such investment shall be made except by a majority vote of all the members of the board of directors, taken by ayes and nays and recorded in the minutes.

4. Take a mortgage except upon the written and signed certificate of two or more appraisers appointed by the board of directors stating that they have examined the real estate described in such mortgage and that in their judgment it affords adequate security for such loan or investment. Such certificate shall show separately the value of the land, the value of the improvements and of the building or buildings erected thereon. The term "improvements" shall include fences of a substantial character, artificial water supply systems, drains and private roads. Such certificate shall be filed and preserved among the records of the association, and any member shall have access thereto.

5. Take a mortgage upon vacant real estate, if the amount secured by such mortgage exceeds fifty per centum of the appraised value thereof as shown by such certificate, or upon unimproved real estate, if the amount so secured exceeds sixty per centum of the appraised value thereof, as shown by such certificate, or upon improved real estate, if the amount so secured exceeds eighty per centum of the appraised value thereof as shown by such certificate.

Real estate shall be considered "vacant," upon which there is no building suitable for residence, business, manufacturing or agricultural purposes; provided, that if the money borrowed is to be used for erecting any such building and is to be advanced as the work progresses, the loan shall be based upon the condition of the real estate when the building shall have been completed.

Real estate shall be considered "improved," if the appraised value of the building or buildings thereon, suitable for residence, business, manufacturing or agricultural purposes, shall equal at least the appraised value of the land alone; and real estate shall be deemed "unimproved," if the appraised value of the buildings and improvements is not equal to the value of the land.

6. Take a mortgage upon vacant real estate if the total of such loans, plus the value of vacant lands owned by the association, exceeds, or by the taking of such mortgage will exceed, fifteen per centum of its accumulated capital.

7. Every mortgage and every assignment of a mortgage taken by any such association shall be immediately recorded in the office of the proper recording officer of the county in which the real estate described in such mortgage is located.

§ 387. Restrictions on taking, holding and conveying real estate.

All real estate purchased by any such association or taken by it in settlement of debts due it, shall be conveyed to it directly by name and the conveyance immediately recorded in the office of the proper recording officer of the county in which such real estate is located.

Every parcel of real estate purchased or acquired by any such association shall be sold by it within five years of the date on which it shall have been acquired unless:

1. There shall be a building thereon occupied by it as an office;
or

2. The superintendent of banks, on application of its board of directors, shall have extended the time within which such sale shall be made.

No purchase or exchange of real estate shall be made by any such association unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of its directors and, if such exchange involves the payment by the association of any difference in value, by the written approval of the superintendent of banks.

§ 388. Power to borrow; restrictions thereon.

Any savings and loan association may borrow money for a term not to exceed one year if:

1. It has been authorized so to do by the vote of a majority of its board of directors, taken by ayes and nays and recorded in its minutes.

2. The aggregate of the money borrowed by it and the prior or underlying mortgages, liens or encumbrances upon the real estate upon which it holds mortgages or to which it has taken title does not exceed twenty per centum of its accumulated capital, or two thousand dollars if its accumulated capital does not exceed ten thousand dollars. This restriction shall not apply to money obtained from the land bank of the state of New York through the issue of bonds on its account and secured by the assignment of bonds and mortgages or other securities by such association.

Any such association, however, may accept from its members advance payments of dues upon its instalment shares and advance payments of interest and premium upon its loans; but such payments shall not be accepted in advance for a longer period than one year, nor shall the interest paid upon such advance payments exceed the rate of six per centum per annum.

§ 389. Fines and restrictions thereon.

Any such association may impose fines upon its shareholders, their legal representatives or successors in interest, if they neglect or refuse to pay dues, interest or premium, when due; but no such fine shall exceed two per centum per month for the period during which such dues, interest and premium have remained in default, except that an association whose by-laws provide for the weekly payment of dues may, in lieu of any such fine, collect a fine of one cent per share for each default in the payment of dues. No fine shall, however, be charged against or deducted from the dues actually paid by a member and no fines or penalties other than those herein specified shall be imposed.

§ 390. Restrictions on payment of expenses.

The expenses of every such association shall be paid from its earnings; and no deduction from dues shall be made either directly or indirectly for that purpose. No such association shall pay, or become liable to pay, either directly or indirectly, in the course of any calendar year, as salaries, commissions, fees or other compensation to its officers, directors, auditors, attorneys, agents, clerks, and all other employees, and for rent, advertising, commissions, and all other operating expenses, sums of money the aggregate of which shall exceed two and one-half per centum of the total amount of the dues actually received and credited to its members and the dividends duly declared and credited thereon, on the first day of such calendar year, including dues and dividends credited to the holders of matured shares.

The term, "operating expenses," as used in this section, shall not include taxes, assessments, repairs or insurance of real estate, commissions on the sale of real estate, reasonable charges for collecting the rent or superintending the repair or improvement of real estate situated outside of the limits of New York state and more than two hundred miles from the office of the association, or any interest which the corporation may have paid or become liable to pay, or proper legal charges for searching titles or the preparation of legal papers, or expenses of foreclosure suits or other litigation, or charges for examinations made by the direction of the superintendent of banks.

The previous provisions of this section limiting operating expenses shall not apply to any association whose accumulated capital is less than forty thousand dollars; but the annual operating expenses of any such association shall not exceed one thousand dollars. No savings and loan association shall, by salary, fees, expenses or otherwise, pay any officer, director, agent or other person for selling its shares or soliciting subscriptions for them.

§ 391. Restrictions as to entries in books; amortization of securities.

1. No savings and loan association shall by any system of accounting or any device of bookkeeping, directly or indirectly, enter any of its assets upon its books in the name of any other person, partnership, unincorporated association or corporation, or under any title or designation that is not truly descriptive thereof.

2. The stocks or bonds, or other interest-bearing obligations purchased by a savings and loan association shall not be entered on its books at more than the actual cost thereof, and shall not thereafter be carried upon its books for a longer period than until the next declaration of dividends, or in any event for more than one year, at a valuation exceeding their present cost as determined by amortization, that is, by deducting from the cost of any such stock or security purchased for a sum in excess of the amount payable thereon at maturity, and charging to profit and loss, a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity, or adding to the cost of any such stock or security purchased at less than the amount payable thereon at maturity, and crediting to profit and loss, a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity.

3. No savings and loan association shall enter or at any time carry on its books the real estate and the building or buildings thereon, used by it as its place of business, at a valuation exceeding their actual cost to such savings and loan association.

4. No real estate taken by such an association in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business or purchased at sales under judgments, decrees or mortgages held by it, shall be entered or carried on its books at a value in excess of the amount due the association as principal at the time of the satisfaction of such debt, or at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding in which such property was purchased, less the withdrawal value of the shares pledged as security for such debt, unless permanent improvements have been made thereon and the value of the property as improved shall have been determined by a written appraisal signed by at least three directors of such savings and loan association and filed with such association.

5. Where a mortgage is taken by any such association upon real estate upon which there are any prior mortgages, liens or encumbrances, every such prior mortgage, lien or encumbrance shall be carried on the books of the association as a liability, whether assumed by it or not.

6. Every savings and loan association shall, moreover, conform its method of keeping its books and records to such orders in respect thereto as shall have been made and promulgated by the superintendent of banks pursuant to section fifty-six of this chapter. Any savings and loan association that refuses or neglects to obey any such order shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each day it so refuses or neglects.

§ 392. Guaranty fund.

Every savings and loan association shall accumulate a fund as provided in section three hundred ninety-five of this article to be known as a guaranty fund, which shall ultimately be equal to at least five per centum of its accumulated capital and to at least fifty per centum of the book value of all real estate owned by it. Such fund shall not be available for the payment of expenses so long as such association has undivided profits, and shall not be available for the payment of dividends; but any such association may charge against such fund any losses upon its investments, whether resulting from depreciation or otherwise, without encroaching upon its undivided profits or its net earnings until such guaranty fund is exhausted. Such fund may be created or increased by contributions and by transfers from undivided profits or from net earnings. Any sums heretofore transferred to the contingent fund of any such association shall constitute its guaranty fund when this act takes effect.

§ 393. Amount of guaranty fund at close of dividend period; how determined.

The amount of the guaranty fund of a savings and loan association at the close of any dividend period may be determined by adding to its guaranty fund, if any, at the beginning of such period any appreciation in the estimated market value of its savings bank securities, resulting from a revaluation thereof by the superintendent of banks, as provided in section fifty-three of this chapter, and sums recovered on items previously charged off and any sums allowed by the superintendent of banks on account of assets previously disallowed and charged off, and deducting therefrom all losses sustained by such association during such period. In the computation of losses, all items shall be included which shall have been disallowed by its board of directors, or by the superintendent of banks, together with any depreciation in the value of its savings bank securities, resulting from a revaluation thereof by the superintendent, in accordance with the provisions of section fifty-three of this chapter, and all debts owing to it upon which no interest shall have been paid for more than one year, or on which a judgment has been recovered which shall have remained unsatisfied for more than two years, unless the superintendent, upon the application of such association, shall have fixed a value at which such debts may be allowed, or unless such debts are secured by a first mortgage upon real estate, in either of which events only the amount by which such debts exceed the value allowed by the superintendent or the cash value of the real estate securing them as determined by written appraisal signed by at least three of the directors of such savings and loan association and filed with it, need be so deducted.

§ 394. Calculation of earnings for dividend period.

1. Gross earnings. To determine the amount of gross earnings of a savings and loan association during any dividend period the following items may be included:

(a) All earnings actually received during such period, less interest and premium earned or accrued and unpaid included in the last previous calculation of earnings;

(b) Interest and premium earned or accrued and unpaid upon debts owing to it secured by collateral as authorized by this article upon which no default for more than one year exists and upon corporate stocks, bonds, or other interest-bearing obligations owned by it upon which there is no default;

(c) The sums added to the cost of securities purchased for less than par as a result of amortization, provided the market value of such securities is at least equal to their present cost as determined by amortization;

(d) Any profits actually received during such period from the sale of securities, real estate or other property owned by it.

2. Net earnings. To determine the amount of its net earnings for such dividend period the following items shall be deducted from gross earnings:

(a) All expenses paid or incurred, both ordinary and extraordinary, in the transaction of its business, the collection of its debts and the management of its affairs, less expenses incurred and interest accrued upon its debts deducted at the last previous calculation of net earnings for dividend purposes;

(b) Interest paid or accrued and unpaid upon debts owing by it;

(c) The amounts deducted through amortization from the cost of corporate stocks, bonds or other interest-bearing obligations purchased above par in order to bring them to par at maturity;

(d) Any losses that may have been sustained by it in excess of its guaranty fund.

The balance thus obtained shall constitute the net earnings of such savings and loan association for such period.

§ 395. Net earnings credited for dividend purposes; credits to guaranty fund and undivided profits; dividends to shareholders.

When the net earnings of any such association have been determined at the close of a dividend period, as provided in the immediately preceding section of this article, if its guaranty fund does not equal five per centum of its accumulated capital and fifty per centum of the book value of the real estate held by it, one-twentieth of such net earnings shall be credited to its guaranty fund, or so much thereof less than one-twentieth as will make such fund equal five per centum of its accumulated capital, or fifty per centum of the book value of its real estate if the latter amount exceeds five per centum of its accumulated capital. The balance of such net earnings or the entire amount thereof, if its guaranty fund equals the amount required by section three hundred ninety-two of this chapter, may be credited to the association's profit and loss account; or, if the expenses and losses of such savings and loan association exceed its gross earnings, such excess shall be charged to its profit and loss account. The credit balance of such account shall constitute the undivided profits at the close of such dividend period and shall be available for dividends. The directors of any such association may annually, semi-annually or quarterly but not more frequently declare such dividends as they shall judge expedient from such undivided profits. But no such association shall declare, credit or pay any dividend to its shareholders except by a vote of the board of directors duly entered upon its minutes which shall show the ayes and nays; nor shall it declare, credit or pay any such dividend until it shall have made good any existing impairment of its accumulated capital. Such dividends shall be apportioned upon the dues and dividends credited to its members.

The directors of any such association, in addition to the transfers to the guaranty fund required by this section may transfer to such guaranty fund from such undivided profits or continue to carry as undivided profits such sum or sums as they may deem wise; provided, however, that whenever the surplus of any such association including its undivided profits and guaranty fund exceeds fifteen per centum of the accumulated capital, the board of directors shall declare such extra dividends as may be necessary to distribute such excess among its shareholders.

If the by-laws of any such association so provide, only a portion of any such dividend need be credited to savings, accumulative prepaid, income or juvenile savings shares and the remaining portion thereof shall revert to the association, and the portion of such dividend credited to such shares may vary according to the class of shares; and upon the withdrawal of members, portions of the dividends credited to their shares may be retained by such association, and such deductions may be made in accordance with a schedule, clearly and fully set forth in the by-laws, and based upon duration of membership, provided, however, that the portion of such dividends that may be retained by the association upon the withdrawal of a share shall in no case exceed the sum of forty per centum of the dividends apportioned and credited upon such share.

Whenever the dues and dividends credited to the instalment, savings, accumulative prepaid or juvenile savings shares of any such association shall equal their matured value, notice of such maturity shall be given to the holders thereof and the payment of dues thereon shall cease. For the purpose of maturing shares, a special dividend may be credited between dividend dates to shares nearly matured at the same rate at which the last periodical dividend was credited, provided the earnings for the current dividend period justify such special dividend. If free, such shares shall be payable immediately, subject, however, to the provisions of section three hundred ninety-eight of this article.

Whenever certificates or pass-books representing matured shares shall be presented for payment, and payment is deferred, the secretary or other officer of any such association discharging similar duties, shall in the presence of the member or his representative, write upon the certificate or pass-book the date and hour at which such certificate or pass-book was presented and demand of payment made. Matured shares shall be credited with dividends, until paid, at the same rate as other shares of the same class. If pledged, the value of such shares shall be applied in payment of the loan which they secure, and such shares shall be canceled and any other collateral shall be returned.

§ 397. Withdrawal of free shares; notice thereof and withdrawal value.

The accumulations upon free shares of any such association may be withdrawn and the shares canceled after sixty days' written notice of such intention filed with its secretary at the place of business of the association, but the directors may waive such notice. The withdrawing shareholder shall, subject to the provisions of the next succeeding section of this article, be paid the withdrawal value of his shares as determined at the last declaration of dividends before such notice, together with all dues paid thereon since such declaration, less fines and other obligations; but no association shall pay to a withdrawing shareholder any sum in excess of the dues credited upon its books, together with such dividends as have been duly declared and credited thereto.

A withdrawing member, until paid, shall be entitled to dividends upon his shares at a rate equal to at least four-fifths of the rate at which dividends are credited upon other shares of the same class.

The board of directors of permanent associations may permit a member to withdraw part of the accumulations to his credit without thereby reducing the number of shares held by him; and the directors of serial associations may permit the holders of savings and juvenile savings shares to withdraw in the same manner part of the amounts standing to the credit of such shares.

Where payment of a withdrawal is deferred it shall be the duty of the secretary or other officer discharging such duties in the presence of the member or his representative to enter upon each notice of withdrawal presented, the date and hour of presentation of such notice of withdrawal.

§ 398. Restrictions on the payment of matured shares and withdrawals.

No more than two-thirds of the receipts of any savings and loan association shall be applied to the payment of matured shares and withdrawals without the consent of the board of directors, except as provided in this section. Whenever two-thirds of such receipts are not sufficient to pay all demands, one-third of such receipts shall be applied first to the payment of matured and income shares in the order in which demand of payment was made or notice of withdrawal filed, and one-third to the payment of instalment, savings, accumulative prepaid and juvenile savings shares filed for withdrawal and in the order in which notices of withdrawal were filed.

Whenever any payment of matured shares shall have been demanded or any notice of withdrawal shall have been filed, and payment of such matured shares or withdrawal shall not have been made within six months from the date of demand or of the filing of such notice, all the receipts of the association from dues, interest, premium, borrowed money, loans repaid and the proceeds of all other investments, shall after the payment of expenses and general indebtedness, be applied to the payment of matured shares and withdrawals in the order in which payment of such matured shares was demanded or notices of withdrawals filed; and the board of directors or the superintendent of banks may direct that such claims shall be paid upon a ratable and proportionate basis. Whenever such demands shall have been made or notices shall have been filed, and such matured shares or withdrawals have remained wholly or in part unpaid for two years thereafter, the superintendent of banks may take possession of the property and business of any such association as provided in section fifty-seven of this chapter.

The board of directors of any savings and loan association may retire all classes of free shares by enforcing withdrawals of the same, provided that the by-laws shall clearly state the manner in which such withdrawals may be enforced, and the holders of such shares are paid the full value of their shares less all lawful obligations.

§ 400. Suspension and forfeiture of shares.

Whenever a member of any such association shall for one year have failed to pay dues upon any instalment shares owned by him, such association may serve notice upon him to pay such dues within a time stated in such notice. Upon the failure of such shareholder to make such payment, the withdrawal value of his shares may be determined and such withdrawal value transferred and credited to him in a suspense account. Upon such transfer, the rights of such member shall cease except the right to withdraw the value of such shares as thus determined and such dividends as may thereafter be credited thereon within ten years from the date of such transfer. After such transfer, such member shall be entitled to at least four-fifths of the dividends apportioned to such shares; and unless the value thereof as thus determined is withdrawn by such member within ten years from the date of such transfer, his interest therein may be forfeited, if the by-laws so provide, and the amount standing to the credit of such shares transferred to the guaranty fund of such association.

§ 401. Transfer of shares and conditions attaching thereto.

No transfer of shares shall be binding upon the association until the same has been made upon its books; and the transferee shall take the same charged with all liabilities to the association and the conditions attaching thereto at the time of the transfer. If the shares are in the names of more than one person, a transfer thereof executed by one or more of such persons shall authorize the association to transfer the same.

§ 402. Repayment of loans; application of pledged shares.

Any loan made by a savings and loan association to a member may be repaid at any time provided the member shall pay the principal due thereon, less the withdrawal value of the shares transferred as security therefor, the premium earned and the interest accrued at the date of such repayment, and all sums advanced by the association for taxes, assessments, or insurance premiums, with interest thereon; and in addition thereto:

1. Interest on the principal repaid for a period of three months after the date of repayment; or

2. Interest and premium upon such principal for the whole year when so provided in the by-laws of the association, if the repayment be made at any time within one year from the date of the mortgage or other evidence of debt.

Any such borrowing member may pay upon any such loan a sum equal to the matured value of one or more of the instalment shares transferred and pledged as security therefor upon the same proportionate terms as are provided in this section for payment in full.

Whenever any mortgage is foreclosed, the withdrawal value of the shares transferred and pledged to any such association for the payment of the loan shall be applied to the extinguishment of the indebtedness of the member as hereinbefore determined, and his rights under such shares shall terminate.

If any such association is in process of voluntary liquidation, the shares of a borrowing member shall be entitled to full participation in the assets of such association, and their value as thus determined shall be applied upon the indebtedness of such member.

If any such association is in process of involuntary liquidation, the minimum value of the shares owned by the borrowing member, after allowing for all possible losses and the expense of liquidation, may be applied in reduction of his indebtedness; and he shall be entitled to receive his proportionate share of any further sums that may be thereafter realized from the assets of such association.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the reduction of any such association's liability to its members in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred and four of this article.

§ 403. Change of location.

Any savings and loan association may make a written application to the superintendent of banks for leave to change its place of business to another place in the same county. The application shall state the reasons for such proposed change, and shall be signed and acknowledged by a majority of its board of directors. If the proposed place of business is within the limits of the town, village, borough or city in which the place of business of the association is located, such change may be made upon the written approval of the superintendent; if beyond such limits, notice of intention to make such application, signed by two principal officers of the association shall be published once a week for two successive weeks, immediately preceding such application in a newspaper published in the city of Albany in which notices by state officers are required by law to be published, and in a newspaper to be designated by the superintendent, published in the county in which the place of business of such association is located. If the superintendent shall issue a certificate authorizing the change of location, as provided in section fifty of this chapter, the association shall cause such certificate to be published once in each week for two successive weeks in the newspapers in which the notice of application was published. When the requirements of this section shall have been fully complied with, such association may, upon or after the day specified in the certificate, remove its property and effects to the location designated therein, and thereafter its place of business shall be the location so specified; and it shall have all the rights and powers in such new location which it possessed at its former location.

§ 404. Reduction of liability to members.

Whenever the losses of any savings and loan association resulting from a depreciation in the value of its securities or otherwise exceed its guaranty fund and undivided profits so that the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due its members, the supreme court may, upon the petition of such savings and loan association, approved by the superintendent of banks, order a reduction of its liability to its members, except upon juvenile savings shares, in such manner as to distribute the loss equitably among such members. If, thereafter, such savings and loan association shall realize from such assets a greater amount than was fixed in the order of reduction, such excess shall be divided among members whose credits were so reduced, but to the extent of such reduction only.

§ 405. Qualifications and disqualification of directors.

The by-laws of every savings and loan association may prescribe other qualifications for directors, but no person shall be eligible to election as a director unless he is the owner in good faith and in his own right on the books of the association of five savings or instalment shares, or of other shares equal in value to one matured instalment share, and every person elected to be a director, who, after such election, shall hypothecate, pledge or cease to be the owner in his own right of the necessary qualifying shares, shall thereby vacate his office, and shall not be eligible for re-election as a director for a period of one year from the date of the next succeeding annual meeting.

§ 406. Oath of directors.

Each director of any savings and loan association, when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such association, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of law applicable to such corporation, and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right, of at least five savings or instalment shares, or of other shares equal in value to one matured instalment share either subscribed for by him or standing in his name on the books of the association. Such oath shall be subscribed by the director making it, certified by an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and immediately transmitted to the superintendent of banks.

§ 407. Vacancies in board of directors; how filled.

All vacancies in the office of director of any savings and loan association shall be filled by election by the members except as hereinafter provided. Vacancies not exceeding one-third of the whole number of the board may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, and the directors so elected may hold office until such vacancies are filled by the members at a special or annual election; or when the number of directors fixed by its by-laws is nine or more, two vacancies may, with the consent of the superintendent of banks, be left unfilled until the next annual election.

§ 408. Change of number of directors.

The members of any savings and loan association may at any time change the number of its directors by amending its by-laws in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred ten of this article.

§ 409. Restrictions on directors and officers.

No director, officer, agent, clerk or employee of any savings and loan association shall receive compensation by salary, fees, expenses or otherwise for soliciting the sale of shares of the association to any person.

No officer, director, attorney, clerk or agent of such association, and no person in any way interested or concerned in the management of its affairs, shall discount or, directly or indirectly, purchase a share in any such association, whether filed for withdrawal or not, except by payment therefor of the withdrawal value of such share.

§ 410. Amendment of by-laws; review of superintendent's refusal to approve by-laws.

1. The by-laws of any savings and loan association may be altered or amended from time to time, provided such alterations or amendments shall have first received the written approval of the superintendent of banks and shall thereafter have been duly adopted at a meeting of the shareholders, of which meeting thirty days' notice, containing a copy of the proposed alterations or amendments, shall have been given by mail to each shareholder of record; and a copy of such alterations and amendments shall have been filed in the office of the superintendent of banks within thirty days after such adoption.

2. Any association deeming itself aggrieved by the refusal of the superintendent of banks to give his written approval of proposed alterations or amendments of the by-laws, may, upon notice to the superintendent, apply to any justice of the supreme court of the district wherein the office of such association is located, for a review of such refusal. The court may review the superintendent's decision, upon such evidence as may be presented, and may affirm or reverse the same in whole or in part and may approve any or all of the proposed alterations or amendments. Any alteration or amendment approved by such court may be adopted by the association at a meeting of its shareholders and a copy thereof, if adopted, shall be filed in the office of the superintendent, as prescribed in subdivision one of this section.

Every savings and loan association shall be deemed an institution for savings, and neither it nor its property shall be taxable under any law which shall exempt savings banks or institutions for savings from taxation. No law which taxes corporations in any form, or the shares or property thereof, shall apply to savings and loan associations unless they are specifically named in such law. The shares held by members of any association and the dues and dividends credited thereon shall be exempt from sale on execution and proceedings supplementary thereto to the amount of six hundred dollars, and the members of any such association shall not be individually liable for the payment of its debts. The shares of savings and loan associations shall not be subject to the stock transfer tax either when issued by the association or when transferred from one member to another.

§ 412. Communications from banking department must be submitted to directors and noted in minutes.

Each official communication directed by the superintendent of banks or one of his deputies to a savings and loan association or to any officer thereof, relating to an investigation or examination conducted by the banking department or containing suggestions or recommendations as to the conduct of the business of the association, shall be submitted, by the officer receiving it, to the board of directors at the next meeting of such board and noted in the minutes of the meetings of such board.

§ 413. Reports to superintendent; penalty for failure to make.

On or before the first day of February in each year, every savings and loan association shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks which shall contain a statement of its condition on the morning of the first day of January in said year. Every such report shall be verified by the oaths of the two principal officers in charge of the affairs of the association at the time of such verification. The verification shall state that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of the persons verifying it, and that the usual business of the association has been transacted at the location required by this article and not elsewhere.

Every such association shall also make such other special reports to the superintendent as he may from time to time require, which shall be in such form and filed at such date as may be prescribed by the superintendent and shall, if required by him, be verified in such manner as he may prescribe.

If any such association shall fail to make any report required by this section on or before the day designated for the making thereof, or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent, such association shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of ten dollars for every day that such report shall be delayed or withheld, and for every day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time therefor shall have been extended by the superintendent as provided by section forty-nine of this chapter.

§ 414. Preference of deposits made by savings and loan associations.

All the property of any bank or trust company which shall become insolvent, shall be applied by the trustees, assignees or receivers thereof, or by the superintendent of banks, if such insolvent bank or trust company is being liquidated by him under the provisions of section fifty-seven of this chapter, in the first place ratably and proportionately to the payment in full of any sum or sums of money deposited therewith by any savings bank, savings and loan association or credit union, but not to an amount exceeding that authorized to be so deposited by the provisions of this chapter, and subject to any other preference provided for in the charter of any such bank or trust company.

§ 415. Annual report to shareholders.

Every savings and loan association shall prepare and publish annually and deliver to each shareholder on application a complete statement of its financial condition including the receipts and disbursements since its last previous statement.

§ 416. Construction of reference to laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-two.

Whenever reference is made prior to May thirty-first, eighteen hundred ninety-eight, in any of the statutes of the state of New York to article five or six or to articles five and six of chapter six hundred eighty-nine of the laws of eighteen hundred ninety-two, such references shall be construed to refer to article ten of this chapter.

§ 417. Rights of certain associations preserved.

hundred ninety-two, article six of chapter six hundred eighty-nine of the laws of eighteen hundred ninety-two as originally enacted, and article six of chapter ten of the laws of nineteen hundred nine, shall not affect the corporate existence of associations organized under any of such acts, and every association organized under the provisions of any of such statutes shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, in like manner as corporations which are incorporated hereunder.

§ 418. Charters to be conformed to this article; obligations and rights unimpaired.

The powers, rights, duties, privileges and obligations of every association organized under any of the acts enumerated in section four hundred seventeen of this chapter or doing business under any of such acts at the time this act takes effect, shall be governed, controlled, construed, extended, limited and determined by the provisions of this chapter, to the same extent and effect as if such association had been organized or incorporated under or pursuant to the provisions hereof, and the articles of association, certificate of incorporation, by-laws or rules of every such association heretofore made or existing, are hereby modified, altered and amended to conform to the provisions of this chapter, and the same are declared void where such articles of association, certificate of incorporation, by-laws or rules are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter; except that the obligations of any existing association, whether between such association and its shareholders or any one of them, or any other person or persons, or any valid contract between the shareholders of any such association, existing at the time this act takes effect, shall not be in any wise impaired by the provisions of this act; and with such exceptions every such savings and loan association shall possess the powers, rights, duties and privileges, and be subject to the obligations, restrictions and liabilities conferred and imposed by this chapter, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in its articles of association, certificate of incorporation, by-laws or rules. All obligations to any such association heretofore contracted shall be enforceable by it and in its name, and demands, claims and rights of action against any such association may be enforced against it as fully and completely as they might have been enforced heretofore.

§ 419. Construction of term "by-laws."

Wherever the word "by-laws" is used in this article, it shall be construed to refer to and include the provisions of all articles of association, certificates of incorporation, by-laws and rules of all corporations organized under any of the repealed acts enumerated in section four hundred seventeen of this article.

§ 420. Foreign corporations prohibited from transacting a savings and loan business in the state.

No foreign corporation shall transact the business of a savings and loan association within this state or maintain an office in the state for the purpose of transacting such business.

When authorized by the superintendent of banks as provided in section twenty-three of this chapter, ten or more savings and loan associations, the aggregate resources of which shall not be less than five million dollars, may form the Land Bank of the State of New York. Each of such associations shall subscribe, acknowledge and submit to the superintendent of banks at his office an organization certificate in duplicate which shall specifically state:

§ 423. When corporate existence begins; conditions precedent to commencing business.

When the superintendent shall have endorsed his approval on the organization certificate as provided by section twenty-three of this chapter, the corporate existence of the land bank of the state of New York shall begin and it shall then have power to elect officers and transact such other business as relates to its organization; but such land bank shall transact no other business until

1. Subscriptions to its shares aggregating one hundred thousand dollars shall have been paid in cash and an affidavit stating that such subscriptions have been so paid, subscribed and sworn to by its two principal officers, shall have been filed in the clerk's office of the county of New York, and a certified copy thereof in the office of the superintendent.

2. The superintendent shall have duly issued to it the authorization certificate specified in section twenty-four of this chapter.

§ 424. General powers.

In addition to the powers conferred by the general corporation law the land bank of the state of New York shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations contained in this article and its by-laws, have the following powers:

1. To issue, sell and redeem bonds and notes secured by bonds and first mortgages made to or held by member associations.

2. To receive money or property from its members and from other associations, corporations and persons with whom it has contracts, engagements or undertakings, in instalments or otherwise; to enter into any contract engagement or undertaking with such associations, corporations or persons for the withdrawal of such money or property, with any increase thereof, or for the payment to them or to any association, corporation or person of any sum of money, at any time, either fixed or uncertain; to lend money to savings and loan associations upon the security of their promissory notes with or without collateral.

3. To invest its capital and other funds in bonds secured by first mortgages of real estate situated within the territory in which its members are authorized to make loans; and in securities which are authorized as investments for savings banks by section two hundred and thirty-nine of this chapter.

4. To receive by assignment from its members and to deposit in trust with the comptroller of the state of New York to be held by him as security for its and their outstanding obligations any first mortgages of real estate and the bonds secured thereby that are legally receivable by savings and loan associations; to empower such savings and loan associations as agents of the land bank, to collect and immediately pay over to the land bank the dues, interest and other sums payable under the terms, conditions and covenants of the bonds and mortgages; to return to, or permit such savings and loan associations to retain any sums of money so collected in excess of the amount required to meet the obligations of such associations respectively.

5. To purchase in its own name, hold and convey real property for the following purposes and no others:

- (a) A plot whereon there is or may be erected a building suitable for the convenient transaction of its business from portions of which not required for its own use a revenue may be derived.

- (b) Such as shall be mortgaged to it in good faith, by way of security for loans made by it or moneys due to it.

(c) Such as shall be conveyed to it for debts previously contracted in the course of its business, and such as it shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees or mortgages held by it.

6. To designate as depositaries of its funds any bank, trust company, or savings bank of this state, or any national banking association located in this state doing a banking business under the laws of the United States.

§ 425. Restrictions upon the powers of the land bank.

The land bank shall not:

1. Do a general deposit business.
2. Invest its capital and other funds in bonds secured by first mortgages on real estate if the amount secured by any such mortgage is in excess of sixty per centum of the appraised value of such real estate, or receive from its members bonds and mortgages on farm lands if the amount secured by any such mortgage is in excess of seventy-five per centum of the appraised value of such real estate.

3. Invest more than twenty-five per centum of its surplus in real estate occupied, or to be occupied, by it for office purposes, without the written approval of the superintendent of banks.

4. Incur any indebtedness upon notes and bonds in excess of twenty times the amount of its capital, nor issue bonds on behalf of any of its members in excess of twenty times the amount of the shares of such capital held by such member or in excess of eighty per centum of the value of the collateral security pledged therefor to such land bank.

§ 426. Issuing of bonds.

Bonds shall be issued in series of not less than fifty thousand dollars. All bonds issued by the land bank may be called on any interest day at one hundred and two and one-half per centum and interest by giving notice of not less than sixty days in a newspaper published in the city of New York. Any member association which is not indebted for borrowed money and has made no investments upon the security of real estate or taken title to real estate upon which there are prior mortgages, liens or encumbrances may pledge seventy-five per centum of its mortgages with the bonds secured thereby, to the land bank, as collateral security for bonds issued on its behalf. Whenever such obligations do not exceed ten per centum of the accumulated capital of the association, fifty per centum of such mortgage securities may be pledged to the land bank; and when such obligations exceed ten per centum of such capital, twenty-five per centum of such mortgage securities may be so pledged. Whenever all the members of a member association shall execute and deliver to such association bonds secured by first mortgages of real estate and shall each give his collateral bond to such member association guaranteeing the payment of the bonds and mortgages of all the other members, one hundred per centum of the mortgage securities of such association and the bonds secured thereby may be pledged by such association to the land bank. The amortization payments upon all mortgages accepted by the land bank as collateral security for bonds shall be sufficient to liquidate the debt in a period not exceeding forty years. In the event of any default for more than ninety days in the payment of the principal of, or for more than ninety days in the payment of any instalment of interest upon, any of said bonds, the superintendent of banks may, of his own motion, and shall, upon the request in writing of the holders of said bonds in default to the amount of fifty thousand dollars, forthwith take possession of and proceed to liquidate the land bank. Upon such liquidation he shall be entitled in the name of the land bank to enforce all of its rights and securities and to collect and realize upon all of its assets, including all mortgages assigned to the said land bank by the several member associations, and deposited with the comptroller of the state of New York, up to the amounts advanced by the land bank to the several member associations thereon. Upon any such liquidation all said bonds then issued and outstanding shall forthwith become due and payable equally and ratably out of all the assets of said land bank in advance of any other debts thereof not specifically preferred by law.

The land bank shall accumulate from its profits a guaranty fund by carrying thereto annually a sum equal to one-half of one per centum of its capital, until such guaranty fund shall be equal to at least fifteen per centum of such capital.

§ 428. Membership; liability; transfer of shares.

Every member shall pay one thousand dollars for each share of the capital of the land bank issued to it, provided that no association shall subscribe for or hold shares of such capital to an amount in excess of ten per centum of the resources of such association.

Every such member shall be individually responsible, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts, and engagements of the land bank, to the extent of the amount of its shares therein at the par value of one thousand dollars each, in addition to the amount invested in such shares. Such shares shall not be transferable, except that a member, which is not liable to the land bank for any obligation direct or contingent, may transfer its shares therein to another savings and loan association, by and with the consent of the board of directors of the land bank; or it may retire from membership and receive back such sums as it has paid for its shares, upon giving one year's notice in writing of such intention, provided, however, that no withdrawal shall be permitted by the board of directors, which will reduce the total amount of the capital of the land bank below one hundred thousand dollars.

§ 429. Commissions and payment of expenses.

The land bank may charge each member an annual commission, not to exceed one-half of one per centum, upon the outstanding debenture bonds issued in its behalf, provided, however, that the rate of commission in any year shall be the same on all outstanding bonds; or in lieu of charging such commission the expenses incurred on account of any debenture bond issue may be charged to the association on whose behalf such bonds are issued, and the general expenses of the land bank assessed against the members in proportion to the bonds issued for them.

§ 430. Qualifications and disqualifications of directors; bond.

At least three-fourths of the directors of the land bank must reside in the state of New York during their term of office, and all must be citizens of the United States. No person shall be elected a director unless he is a shareholder of a member association and has been nominated by it for that office; and every person elected to be a director who, after such election, shall cease to be a shareholder of a member association, shall cease to be a director of the land bank, and his office shall be vacant. Directors who have the custody or possession of money, securities or property shall give bond to the land bank in an amount commensurate with their liability.

§ 431. Oath of directors.

Each director, when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the land bank, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of law applicable to such corporation and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right on the books of the association which nominated him of five savings or instalment shares, or other shares of the value of one matured share, and that the same is not hypothecated, or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt and, in case of re-election that such share was not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt during his previous term. Such oath shall be subscribed by the directors and officers making it, and certified by an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and immediately transmitted to the superintendent of banks.

§ 432. Vacancies in board of directors.

All vacancies in the office of director shall be filled by election by the members except as provided in this section. Vacancies not exceeding one-third of the whole number of the board may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office, and the directors so elected may hold office until such vacancies are filled by the members at a special or annual election; or when the number of directors required is nine or more, two vacancies may, with the consent of the superintendent of banks, be left unfilled until the next annual election.

§ 433. Change of number of directors.

The members of the land bank may at any time change the number of its directors by amending its by-laws in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred thirty-five of this article.

§ 434. Officers; powers, duties and compensation.

The by-laws of the land bank shall specify its officers, the manner of their election, and their terms of office.

The officers who have the custody or possession of money, securities, or property shall give bond to the association as provided in the by-laws. They shall receive such compensation as is prescribed in the by-laws and shall hold office until their successors are elected and have qualified.

§ 435. Amendment of by-laws.

The by-laws may be altered or amended, from time to time, provided such alterations or amendments shall have first received the written approval of the superintendent of banks and shall thereafter have been duly adopted at a meeting of the directors.

§ 436. Annual meeting; notice; voting.

The annual meeting of the land bank, for the election of directors, shall be held at its principal place of business in January in each year. Notice of the time and place of holding such election shall be given by publication thereof, at least once in each week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such election, in a newspaper published in the city of New York and by mailing a copy of such notice postage prepaid to each shareholder of the land bank ten days before the holding of such meeting. Each member shall be entitled to one vote for every share of the capital standing in its name on the books of the land bank.

§ 437. Preference of credits.

All the property of any bank, trust company or savings and loan association which shall become insolvent shall be applied by the trustees, assignees or receivers thereof or by the superintendent of banks in the first place to the payment in full of any sum or sums of money deposited therewith by the land bank or due to the land bank for subscriptions, sinking funds, interest and principal of bonds, or guaranty of mortgages, ratably and proportionately but not to an amount exceeding that authorized to be so deposited or contracted by the provisions of this chapter, and in accordance and on an equality with any other preference provided for in this chapter.

§ 438. Land bank and its debentures not liable for taxation.

The debentures issued by the land bank and the land bank itself, together with its capital, accumulations and funds, shall have the same exemption from taxation as other institutions for savings. No law which taxes corporations in any form, or the shares thereof, or the accumulations therein, shall be deemed to include the land bank or its issues of debenture bonds unless they are specifically named in such law.

2. Make any loan in excess of fifty dollars unless security therefor is taken. The term "security" within the meaning of this subdivision shall include an endorsed note.

3. Impose a fine, in case of failure of a member to make payments on shares, exceeding two per centum per month or fraction of a month on amounts due, except that a minimum fine of five cents per month or fraction thereof may be imposed.

4. Permit any director, officer or member of the credit committee or supervisory committee to borrow directly or indirectly or become surety for any loan or advance made by the corporation, unless such loan shall have been approved at a regularly called meeting of the members of the corporation by a majority vote of those present, and the notice of such meeting shall have stated that the question of loans to directors, officers or members of committees would be considered at such meeting.

5. Issue shares or accept deposits in trust, except in the name of the trustee, as such, for a specified beneficiary whose residence shall be disclosed to the credit union by such trustee.

6. Issue any shares except to those qualified for membership under its by-laws, and unless there is printed upon the certificate or other evidence of such shares the words "transferable only to qualified members."

7. Lend to any of its members without requiring at the time of such loan a surrender and pledge of any certificates or other evidences of membership, issued by such credit union to the member to whom such loan is to be made, except such share or shares as may be necessary to qualify such member as a director of such credit union.

§ 455. Capital.

The capital of a credit union shall consist of the payments made by members on shares, and unpaid dividends credited thereon.

§ 456. Deposit of funds; preference.

The capital, deposits, undivided profits and guaranty fund of any credit union may be deposited in one or more savings banks, state banks or trust companies, incorporated under the laws of the state of New York, or in national banks located in the state. Funds deposited in a state bank or trust company shall, in the event of the liquidation of such depository, be entitled to priority of payment to the same extent as deposits of savings banks as provided in section two hundred and seventy-eight of this chapter.

§ 457. Guaranty fund; how created and regulated.

Every credit union shall create a guaranty fund which shall in no case exceed the capital of the corporation, plus fifty per centum of its other liabilities, and which shall be held to meet contingencies until the corporation is dissolved, when it may be distributed among the shareholders.

Such guaranty fund shall be created and regulated as follows:

1. All entrance fees, transfer fees and fines remaining after the payment of organization expenses shall be set aside to such fund.

2. At the close of each fiscal year twenty-five per centum of the net earnings of the corporation for the year shall be carried to such fund, provided that, upon the recommendation of the board of directors, the shareholders, at the annual meeting, may increase or, if such fund equals or exceeds its capital, may decrease the proportion of net earnings to be thus set aside.

3. Any sums recovered on items previously charged to it shall be credited to such fund.

Losses incurred by a credit union may be charged to its guaranty fund.

§ 458. Calculation to determine whether dividends may be declared and amount thereof.

On or after the date of the close of each fiscal year, in order to determine whether a dividend may be declared, and the amount thereof, the earnings from all sources, may be credited to the credit union's profit and loss account and the following items shall be charged against such account:

1. All expenses paid or incurred of whatever nature in the management of its affairs, the collection of its debts or the transaction of its business.

2. The interest paid, or accrued and unpaid, on debts owing by it.

3. All losses sustained by it in excess of its guaranty fund.

The credit balance of the profit and loss account as thus determined shall constitute the undivided profits of the credit union at the close of such period, and shall be applicable to the payment of dividends except as provided in the next succeeding section.

§ 459. Dividends to shareholders; how often and from what payable; conditions precedent.

The directors of any credit union may, at the close of each fiscal year, declare such dividend from its undivided profits as they shall judge expedient. But no credit union shall declare, credit or pay any dividend to its shareholders until it shall have:

1. Made good any existing impairment of its capital.

2. Carried to its guaranty fund such part of its net earnings as is required by section four hundred fifty-seven of this article.

Only fully paid shares shall be entitled to dividends, and shares which shall have been fully paid during any year in which dividends were declared shall be entitled only to a proportionate part of such dividends calculated from the first day of the month following such payment in full.

§ 460. Change of location.

Any credit union may make a written application to the superintendent of banks for leave to change its place of business to another place in the same county. The application shall state the reasons for such proposed change, and shall be signed and acknowledged by a majority of its board of directors and accompanied by the written assent thereto of at least two-thirds of its shareholders. If the proposed place of business is within the limits of the village, borough or city, if in a city not divided into boroughs, in which the place of business of the credit union is located, such change may be made upon the written approval of the superintendent; if beyond such limits, notice of intention to make such application, signed by two principal officers of the credit union shall be published once a week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such application in a newspaper published in the city of Albany in which notices by state officers are required by law to be published, and in a newspaper to be designated by the superintendent, published in the county in which the present place of business of such credit union is located. If the superintendent shall grant his certificate authorizing the change of location, as provided in section fifty of this chapter, the credit union shall cause such certificate to be published once in each week for two successive weeks in the newspapers in which the notice of application was published. When the requirements of this section shall have been fully complied with, the credit union may, upon or after the day specified in the certificate, remove its property and effects to the location designated therein, and thereafter its place of business shall be the location so specified; and it shall have all the rights and powers in such new location which it possessed at its former location.

§ 461. Exemptions and individual liability of shareholders.

The shares of members of any credit union and all the accumulations on such shares shall be exempt from sale on execution and proceedings supplementary thereto to the amount of six hundred dollars. The transfer of such shares shall not be taxable under the provisions of article twelve of the tax law.

Unless the by-laws so provide the shareholders of such a credit union shall not be individually liable for the payment of its debts.

§ 462. Reduction of liability to shareholders.

Whenever the losses of any such credit union resulting from a depreciation in the value of its securities or otherwise exceed its undivided profits and guaranty fund, so that the estimated value of its assets is less than the total amount due its shareholders, the board of directors may, with the written approval of the superintendent of banks, order a reduction of the liability to each of its shareholders, so as to divide the loss equitably among such shareholders. If thereafter the credit union shall realize from such assets a greater amount than was fixed in the order of reduction, such excess shall be divided among the shareholders whose assets were reduced, but to the extent of such reduction only.

§ 463. Manner of withdrawal and expulsion of members; effect upon liabilities to credit union.

A member desiring to withdraw from a credit union shall file a written notice of his intention to withdraw. The board of directors may expel any member who has not carried out his engagements with the credit union, or who has been convicted of a criminal offense, or who neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of this article, or of the by-laws, or who habitually neglects to pay his debts, or who becomes insolvent or bankrupt. The members at any regularly called meeting may expel any member whose private life is a source of scandal. But no member shall be expelled until he has been informed in writing of the charges against him and shall have had reasonable opportunity to be heard.

Any member of a credit union who withdraws or is expelled shall not be relieved of any liability to the corporation. The amounts paid in on shares or deposited by such members, together with any dividends credited to their shares and any interest which has accrued on their deposits, shall be repaid to them in the order of their withdrawal or expulsion, as funds become available therefor, but the credit union may deduct from such payments any sums due it from such members.

§ 464. Meetings of shareholders; voting.

At all meetings of shareholders of every credit union each shareholder shall have one vote irrespective of the number of shares which he holds, and no shareholder may vote by proxy. At any annual or special meeting a decision of the board of directors may be overruled by a majority vote of all the shareholders.

1. Annual meeting. An annual meeting for the election of directors, a credit committee and a supervisory committee shall be held during the month of January upon such notice and at such time and place as the by-laws provide.

2. Special meetings. At the request of ten members, or by order of the directors or the supervisory committee, special meetings may be held, after notice to the members as provided in the by-laws.

§ 465. Qualifications and disqualifications of directors.

Every director of a credit union shall be a shareholder in his own right; and every person elected to be a director, who, after such election, shall hypothecate, pledge or cease to be the owner in his own right of his qualifying share shall thereby vacate his office, and shall not be eligible for re-election as a director for a period of one year from the date of the next succeeding annual meeting.

§ 466. Oaths of directors, officers and members of committees.

Each director, officer and member of committee when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the credit union, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of law applicable to such corporation, and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right, of at least one share subscribed for by him or standing in his name on the books of the credit union and that the same is not hypothecated, or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt, and, in case of re-election, that such share was not hypothecated, or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt during his previous term. Such oath shall be subscribed by the directors, officers and members of committees making it, and certified by an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and immediately transmitted to the superintendent of banks.

§ 467. Tenure of office of directors.

The directors, unless sooner disqualified or removed, shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders after their election and until their successors are elected and have qualified.

§ 468. Powers and duties of directors; not entitled to compensation.

The board of directors of every credit union shall have the general management of the affairs, funds and records of the corporation. The directors shall hold an annual meeting within ten days after the annual meeting of shareholders for the purpose of electing a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the corporation.

If the by-laws so provide the directors may elect the same person as secretary and treasurer.

No member of the board of directors shall receive any compensation for his services as a member of said board.

Whenever the directors shall deem any loan unsafe they may, in their discretion, require additional security to be given by the borrower, and if such security is not furnished as required by them, they may declare the loan due and take action to collect the same.

§ 469. Special duties of directors.

Unless the by-laws shall expressly reserve any or all of the following duties to the shareholders, it shall be the special duty of the directors:

1. To act upon all applications for membership and to expel members.

2. To fix the amount of surety bond required of each officer having the control or custody of funds.

3. To determine from time to time the rate of interest which shall be allowed on deposits and charged on loans.

4. To fix the maximum number of shares which may be held by, and the maximum amount which may be lent to any one member.

5. To declare dividends.

6. To recommend amendments to the by-laws.

7. To fill vacancies in the board of directors or in the credit committee.

8. To direct the deposit or investment of funds, except loans to members, and to perform such other duties as the by-laws may prescribe.

§ 470. Credit committee; duties.

The credit committee of every credit union shall meet as often as necessary, after due notice has been given to each member, for the purpose of passing upon applications of members for loans and advances. Every such application must be made in writing and must state the purpose for which the loan is desired and the security offered. No loan shall be made unless the application has received the unanimous approval of the members of the committee present at the meeting, provided that a majority of the committee shall be present.

Any applicant for a loan may appeal from the decision of the credit committee to the board of directors.

In no case shall a member of the credit committee receive any compensation for his services as a member of such committee, or serve as a member of the supervisory committee.

If a credit union is located elsewhere than in a city, its board of directors may, if the by-laws so provide, act as its credit committee.

§ 471. Supervisory committee; powers and duties.

The supervisory committee shall have power:

1. To suspend at any time by unanimous vote, at a meeting called for that purpose, the credit committee or any member of the board of directors or any officer.

2. By a majority vote to call a meeting of the shareholders to consider any violation of this article or the by-laws, or any practices of the credit union which, in the opinion of the committee, are unsafe or unauthorized.

It shall be the duty of the supervisory committee:

1. To inspect the securities, cash and accounts of the credit union and supervise the acts of its board of directors, officers and credit committee.

2. Within seven days after the suspension of the credit committee, to cause notice of a special meeting to be given to the shareholders to take such action regarding such suspension as may be deemed necessary.

3. To fill vacancies in the supervisory committee until the next annual meeting of the shareholders.

4. At the close of each fiscal year to make an audit of the books and records and an examination of the business and affairs of the credit union for the year and to make a full report of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements to the board of directors, and to cause such report to be read at the annual meeting of shareholders and filed with the records of such credit union.

In no case shall a member of the supervisory committee receive any compensation for his services as a member of such committee, or serve as a member of the credit committee.

§ 472. Officers; powers, duties and compensation.

The powers, duties and compensation of the officers of any credit union shall be such as are prescribed in the by-laws.

§ 473. Amendment of by-laws; approval of superintendent of banks.

The by-laws of a credit union may be changed or amended by a three-fourths vote of the shareholders present at any meeting; provided the proposed change or amendment shall have first had the approval of the superintendent of banks; and provided further, that notice of such meeting, containing a true copy of the proposed change or amendment, shall have been given to each shareholder as prescribed in the by-laws. A copy of any change or amendment thus adopted shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks within thirty days after its adoption. Any credit union deeming itself aggrieved by the refusal of the superintendent of banks to give his approval to a proposed change or amendment, may apply to any justice of the supreme court of the district wherein the credit union is located, upon notice to the superintendent of banks, for a review of such decision. Such justice shall review the decision of the superintendent and may overrule or set aside the action of the superintendent and approve such change or amendment. An approval thus obtained shall enable such credit union to make the change or amendment as approved.

§ 474. Credit union not liable for taxation.

Any credit union subject to the provisions of this article shall be deemed an institution for savings within the meaning of the law which exempts such institutions from taxation. No law which taxes corporations in any form, or the shares thereof or the accumulations therein, shall apply to corporations doing business in accordance with the provisions of this article, unless such corporations are specifically named in said law.

§ 475. Fiscal year.

The fiscal year of every credit union shall end at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December.

§ 476. Communications from banking department must be submitted to directors and supervisory committee, and noted in minutes.

Each official communication directed by the superintendent of banks or one of his deputies to a credit union or to any officer thereof, relating to an investigation or examination conducted by the banking department or containing suggestions or recommendations as to the conduct of the business of the credit union, shall be submitted, by the officer receiving it, to the board of directors and to the supervisory committee at the next meeting of such board or committee and duly noted in the minutes of the meetings of such board, or committee.

§ 477. Reports to superintendent; penalty for failure to make.

On or before the first day of February in each year, every credit union shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks which shall contain a statement of its condition on the morning of the first day of January in said year and shall be in the form and contain the matters prescribed by the superintendent. Every such report shall be verified by the oaths of the president, treasurer, secretary, and a majority of the members of the supervisory committee. The verification shall state that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of the persons verifying it, and that the usual business of the credit union has been transacted at the location required by this article and not elsewhere.

Every such credit union shall also make such other special reports to the superintendent as he may from time to time require, which shall be in such form and filed at such date as may be prescribed by the superintendent and shall, if required by him, be verified in such manner as he may prescribe.

If any such credit union shall fail to make any report required by this section on or before the day designated for the making thereof, or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent, such credit union shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of five dollars for every day that such report shall be delayed or withheld, and for every day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time therefor shall have been extended by the superintendent as provided by section forty-nine of this chapter.

§ 478. Penalty for loans to nonmembers; recovery.

Any officer, director or member of a committee of a credit union who knowingly permits a loan to be made or participates in a loan to a nonmember of the corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be primarily liable to the corporation for the amount thus illegally loaned, and the illegality of such a loan shall be no defense in any action by the corporation to recover the amount lent.

§ 479. Penalty for use of term "Credit Union."

The use by any person, partnership, association or corporation, other than those authorized as provided in this article, of any name or title which contains the two words "credit" and "union" shall be a misdemeanor.

REPORT

---

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

ALBANY, N. Y., January 25, 1918

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York:

Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 13 of the Laws of 1909, known as the Canal Law, I have the honor to submit a report as to the condition of the canals; as to the improvements and repairs made during the year, and a statement of the moneys received and expended.

I also present a statement of the trade and tonnage of the canals during the navigation season of 1917. There is also a statement of the condition of the work completed and in progress in connection with the improvement of the Erie, Oswego and Champlain Canals, as authorized by Chapter 147 of the Laws of 1903, as amended, and by supplementary acts; the improvement of the Cayuga and Seneca Canal, as authorized by Chapter 391 of the Laws of 1909, and the construction of terminal facilities for traffic on the improved canal, as authorized by Chapter 746 of the Laws of 1911.

With the report, I submit various recommendations concerning matters relative to the work of the department.

TONNAGE

The freight shipped over the State Canals during the season of 1917 amounted to 1,297,225 tons, which was distributed as follows:

	TONS
Erie canal .....	675,083
Champlain canal .....	515,754
Oswego canal .....	74,042
Cayuga and Seneca canal .....	17,525
Black River canal .....	14,821

The Erie canal shipments were made up of a total of 518,608 tons shipped east and 156,475 tons bound west. The eastern freight consisted of 482,789 tons of way shipments and only 35,819 tons of through shipments, while the west bound shipments included 115,313 tons of way freight and 41,162 tons of through freight. The total through freight, both east and west, on the Erie canal, was 76,981 tons.

On the Champlain Canal, the southerly shipments amounted to 332,561 tons and the northerly bound freight, 183,193 tons. The way freight was divided into 173,630 tons shipped south and 41,639 tons shipped north.

On the Oswego Canal, the shipments were almost equally divided between east and west bound freight, the total east bound being 35,823 tons, and west bound, 38,219 tons.

Practically all of the freight on the Cayuga and Seneca and Black River Canals was east bound.

Taking the canal system as a whole, the way freight amounted to 919,759 tons and the through freight to 377,466 tons, with an east bound freight of 913,622 tons as compared with 383,603 tons going west.

Decreases in tonnage were experienced on all of the waterways excepting the newly completed Champlain Canal on which a gain of 9,226 tons is seen. The quantity of freight shipped through the Champlain Canal has constantly increased during the past several years, and in fact, has kept pace with the improvement work. The season of 1915 showed an increase over the record of 1914 by 11,016 tons; and 1916 surpassed the preceding year by 3,498 tons. With an increase of 9,226 tons in 1917, the total increase for the three years is 23,740 tons.

The total miles of boats cleared was 474,504 and the value of the shipments was estimated at $24,757,077.

Annexed to this report will be found tables giving in detail all commodities shipped over the canal, but below will be found the tonnage of the more important items:

LUMBER AND FOREST PRODUCTS

Wood . . . . .	14,518
Ashes, pot and pearl .....	8,692

Anthracite coal . . . . .	169,107
Bituminous coal . . . . .	65,834
Miscellaneous articles . . . . .	5,681

The items in which there were increased shipments include "boards and scantling," "wood" and "wood pulp," in which increases of 2,115 tons, 6,639 tons and 3,133 tons, respectively, were seen. The shipments of anthracite coal for 1917 exceeded the total for 1916 by 5,460 tons; and of bituminous coal, 16,087 tons more were shipped last year than in 1916.

Comparing the total for 1917, namely, 1,297,225 tons with the total for 1916, namely, 1,625,050 tons, a falling off in shipments is noted to the extent of 327,825 tons.

THE DECREASE IN TONNAGE

The amount of shipments over the canal system has shown a steady decrease for the past twenty years and the falling off has been most pronounced in the preceding several years.

Several reasons may be advanced for the loss in canal tonnage and no deep study is needed to find the explanation. The principal cause is not only the lack of boats but the absence of an adequate and efficient freight carrying service. It has not been due to any defect in the canal channel itself.

For some years previous to the adoption of the so-called "Barge Canal Referendum," the policy of the State toward the canals was somewhat uncertain, and until 1903 there had been no definite assurances that the plan of fostering inland water commerce would be continued and enlarged. The canal consequently failed to attract to it men of ability and resource with sufficient operating capital, with the result that the business continued in the hands of those who for many reasons were unable to carry on their activities in a systematic manner, or keep pace with modern improvements in transportation. The failure of the railroads to extend to water lines favorable rates also was a deterrent factor.

As to the past several years, and especially 1916 and 1917, the reasons for the diminished shipments may be summarized as follows:

First.—The failure to construct new boats of the present type to take the place of those which had been retired from service by reason of unseaworthiness.

Second.—The non-completion of the improvement project and consequent delay in the adoption of definite boat building plans by new transportation companies.

Third.—The inefficient service provided by the individual owners of such boats as still remained in use.

Fourth.—Destructive competition on the part of railroads.

Fifth.—The falling off of imported commodities as a result of the European war, thus materially decreasing the tonnage available for westbound movement from New York.

Sixth.—The abnormal business conditions of the past three years which compelled commercial and manufacturing interests to utilize railroad service exclusively on account of the necessity of quick deliveries.

Seventh.—Federal regulation and control during the past year of the distribution of coal, grain and grain products, thus depriving the canal of a large tonnage which naturally belonged to it.

EFFICIENT CANAL CARRIERS REQUIRED

The new waterways of this State constitute a great system. If the people are to receive the benefits had in mind when the project was approved, operations upon it must be conducted in a large way. While some business will await the individual boat-owner, his efforts alone cannot avail in restoring commerce to the canals in sufficient amount to justify their maintenance.

In the development and transaction of ordinary business, a high degree of efficiency has been reached and the worth of those engaged in operating on the canal will be measured by the same standards. The splendid waterways about to be thrown open for use present a wide field for the activities of energetic, enterprising men who are capable of maintaining a dependable freight service. The organization of an operating company must be equal in efficiency to that of a railroad and the personnel of the management must be such as to command the confidence and respect of the shipping public. The shipper may not be expected to entrust merchandise of high value to a carrier whose ability either to make delivery as required, or render reparation in case of failure, is not assured. As a matter of fact, the development of canal commerce depends entirely upon the nature of the service rendered. Service not only embraces frequent and regular sailings but also all of the incidental features demanded by the shipper.

The traffic available for canal transportation moves to and from practically every section of the country. Its first demand is for through routes and through rates. To care for it, canal lines must serve as broad a territory as the competing railroads. They must prorate and interchange traffic with connecting water or rail lines, giving shippers a through bill of lading, with the privilege of specifying through routes, and assume all of the liabilities and conditions of carriage incurred by rail carriers. The rates of the canal companies must be on a fixed basis, published in tariff form, and should include marine insurance. In other words, the companies which shall operate on the new canal should be worthy of the splendid plant placed at their disposal.

NECESSITY OF FEDERAL CO-OPERATION IN DEVELOPING CANAL COMMERCE

The canals of this State can be compared with no other inland waterways in the United States. Their location is excellent both from a strategic and commercial standpoint, connecting as they do, the Great Lakes with Seaboard. The territory traversed is one of the most densely populated sections of the country, there being in the zone within twenty miles on each side of the canal between New York and Buffalo, approximately eight million people. Thirteen of the cities of the State are located in close proximity to the canal.

The great emergency confronting the Nation at this time, especially with reference to transportation facilities, requires the use of every available instrument for the movement of freight. It is important that the line of communication from west to east shall remain unbroken and in fact, it is a military axiom that wars are won by those nations which maintain the most efficient transportation systems.

The greatest war of history has been raging more than three years. Since the entry of the United States into it this Nation has been exerting all its efforts to do its full part. The extraordinary conditions have demanded the movement of commodities in an enormous volume. With all due credit to the railroads, they have not been equal to the burdens imposed upon them. It is manifest that a full use of the canal is vital for the relief of the freight situation.

The winter of 1916-1917, witnessed a congestion of traffic with resultant paralysis of the transportation systems of the country, entirely without precedent. Emerging from this condition in the spring of 1917, the country was confronted with a car shortage of nearly 150,000 cars. During the summer months, under more efficient methods and easier operating conditions, the carriers decreased the shortage to about 35,000 cars on September 1st.

On October 1st, however, it had again assumed formidable proportions, totalling about 75,000 cars and with another winter at hand it is to be feared that the freight blockade of next spring will be the greatest with which this country has ever had to cope.

Embargoes on freight shipments, once infrequently applied, are daily being announced. One railroad paralleling the waterway has issued and placed in effect during recent months over 1,600 embargoes. Many of these have been in effect for months.

Being the richest country in the world, with enormous quantities of materials and supplies in our interior sections, every method of moving freight must be utilized to its fullest capacity. Over a million American troops will be on the European battlefields by early summer and these will look to their own people at home to supply them with their material needs.

The railroads of the country during recent months have hauled over 20 per cent. more traffic than was hauled in the corresponding period of the previous year, with about 2 per cent. more cars and 1 per cent. more engines. They have about reached the limit of their capacity. It is stated that 100 pounds of freight per man per day must be unloaded abroad to maintain our armies. When we have 1,000,000 men in Europe we must deliver daily 100,000,000 pounds of freight or 50,000 tons—this means we must furnish 1,000 cars daily and haul them to seaboard, in addition to meeting the requirements of war-time activity here at home.

The canals may be utilized for the transportation of 10,000,000 tons of freight per year. This means the conservation of nearly 500,000 freight cars annually; thus augmenting the railroad capacity by about 25 per cent.

During the year ended June 1916, five railroads serving the territory traversed and connected by the New York canals, transported over 200,000,000 tons of freight that originated on their own lines. This equaled almost the railroads' maximum capacity. They have nearly reached their limit and yet, the quantities of freight demanding shipment and the necessity for its movement still increases. From computations which have been made, the total freight in prospect will exceed by 25 per cent. the maximum capacity of the railroads.

Failure to make use of a waterway possessing all the physical and economical elements required for success, and paralleling the railroad routes, would be looked upon by the future historian as an inexcusable blunder. Whether the canals be used for the carrying of materials and supplies for the armies abroad, or whether they will serve the general business interests of the country, the benefits are the same.

If economy in freight movement is desired, the canals will supply it. If a prompt and speedy receipt of freight is demanded, the waterway at the present time excels the railroads. Whatever may have been the performance of the railroads in other times, it is a matter that may be proved beyond doubt that cargoes by canal pass from Buffalo to New York in less time than by rail. Already, with a portion of the old canal in use and by means of antiquated canal boats, a fleet has made the trip from the Great Lakes to New York in little more than seven days. With the new canal route in use for its entire length, five days may be counted as the maximum time of passage.

To secure a test of comparison, inquiry was made as to the time consumed by the railroads in carrying freight between Buffalo and New York City. Records were sought regarding some half dozen cars. The tracing of one car showed that it was 23 days in transit and the least time taken by any car followed was eight days. Taking the six cars as a whole, the average time consumed by a car in making the trip from Buffalo to New York was 11 days. Arguments, therefore, against water transportation on the ground of slow delivery, are treated with impatience.

While it may be true that rail lines as an urgent measure may haul specified cars from Buffalo to New York in two days, it does not follow that actual delivery of all property transported can be accomplished in that time. Due to the congestion of terminals at New York, the Department finds cars remain in the yards from three to ten days before they are unloaded.

I contend the utilization of the New York canals is a military necessity. The great American army which will soon be abroad must be supplied with all its needs. On us also depends to a large degree the maintenance of the armies of nations standing side by side with us in the great struggle. We cannot fail in the task to which we have set our hand. The situation already acute will be beyond control by midsummer. The task has only been begun and yet the initial operations have placed a heavy hand on the country's commerce. With the American military campaign in full progress, the conditions under which ordinary business has been struggling during the past six months will become most critical. The furnishing of relief needs no extended argument. Whatever may be the attitude at the present time of any individual toward the use of the waterway, it is confidently predicted that by midsummer, every kind of a vessel that may be made to float will be found in the business of carrying freight. Much has been said on the subject of preparedness. The situation must be met and action should be taken now to put in motion the proper machinery which will provide fleets of freight carrying craft for use at a time when they will be most needed.

Arguments along these lines have been presented by me to the Council of National Defense through its subsidiary Committee on Inland Water Transportation, and I have urged that in the absence of private enterprise, the United States government should undertake the building of a sufficient number of modern boats for use on the new canal system.

I have pointed out in as forceful a manner as I could, the fact that a $154,000,000 system of waterways has been provided by the State of New York, without aid from the National government, and that it was lawful and proper in the present national emergency, that the Federal government should provide means for making the canals effective. The benefits to be received would be nation wide. To my mind, the construction of barges for the transportation of freight from interior points to the ocean is merely an extension of the policy of constructing ships to transport freight across the ocean. Aside from the value of the canals on their own account, no more efficient auxiliary to the railroads exists. As previously stated, if the waterways should be utilized to their full capacity of 10,000,000 tons per year, 500,000 freight cars would be conserved for other use.

A summary of my recommendations to the Federal government was that it should have constructed under its supervision at least 100 boats of a modern type for use on the canals with necessary motive power; that the 600 or more of the present type canal boats still in existence should be requisitioned and returned to the canal service; that proper tug boats should be secured to tow them; and that as a war measure, freight should be diverted from the rail routes for transportation by canal. Plans and description of the proposed new type of boats were submitted, together with estimates of cost, and to insure the success of the whole project, I suggested that the sum of $5,000,000 be set aside from the war funds.

Much correspondence and several conferences have been had with the authorities at Washington on the subject, but I regret to say that no indications are as yet apparent of favorable action on their part.

PROSPECTIVE CANAL TONNAGE

With dependable and efficient freight-carrying lines operating on the canals, no doubt exists as to the business which may be had. The freight possibilities of the great territory traversed by the canals have been studied by the Department and the conclusions reached may be found in booklets issued during the past year. It would therefore seem unnecessary in this report to cover the ground again. Each investigation of the potential canal tonnage, whatever the basis of computation, showed that the volume of prospective business will exceed the canals' capacity. A summary of the analyses made is as follows:

On the basis of population in municipalities on the line of the canal, taking the standard of 18 tons per capita as the rule of measurement, 23,000,000 tons.

On the basis of traffic arising from industrial establishments in close proximity to the canal, assuming an average shipment of one carload for each industry on alternate days during the navigation season, 14,000,000 tons.

On the basis of traffic arising from industrial establishments in areas in this State tributary to the canal, assuming that an average of two carloads per week from each industry during the season would be shipped, 4,340,000 tons.

On the basis of diverting to the canal the same proportion of general rail traffic as the amount of grain transported by the canal bore to the amount of grain carried by the railroads, namely,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent., 4,500,000 tons.

In the event that the railroad congestion remains acute and by action of the Federal authorities, the shipment of low grade commodities by water is directed, computations made by the department indicate that the anthracite and bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania located at distances ranging from 50 to 100 miles from the southernmost canal terminals, would supply a canal tonnage of at least 13,000,000 tons per year.

Pamphlets containing the details of the computations used in arriving at the foregoing figures have been issued by the department and are available to those who may desire them.

CANAL TRAFFIC BUREAU

By Chapter 26 enacted by your Honorable Body at the last session, authority was given for the appointment of a Canal Traffic Agent in this Department whose duty it should be under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Works to collect and tabulate information and data relative to canal transportation and with reference to the movement of freight when the whole or a part of the route might be by canal.

Such action was wise in that it provided the Department means to keep closely in touch with the shipper and carrier, and bring them together. The bureau was established in July and steps at once were taken to compile statistics relative to canal transportation, costs, rates, routes and facilities and other data of interest and assistance to shippers and carriers.

A tariff file comprising some 300 freight rate tariffs, including rail, lake, ocean and canal rates, and joint rail and water, rail and canal; and canal and water class and commodity rates, has been compiled. This is being supplemented from time to time. Information as to shipments to and from the different sections of the country for which the canals might provide all or part of the route, is available for the use of the public.

The Department is also conducting a campaign of education regarding the opportunities offered by the canal. Prejudices of long standing are being removed. It must be borne in mind that the present generation of business men have grown up with no knowledge of the possibilities of transporting freight by water, and since waterways ceased to be a factor more than a decade ago, the use of them has had no place in their business plans. The Department's efforts along this line are bearing fruit. The plan adopted of distributing information is so comprehensive that the availability of the canals will be brought home to every man who has a pound of freight for shipment.

TYPE OF BOAT FOR NEW CANAL

The question as to the type of boat which may be used most advantageously and profitably on the new waterways has been given considerable study throughout the year. In my report submitted in January last, the matter was briefly discussed.

A tendency exists on the part of some to design a boat of the maximum dimensions, that is, one which will take up the full capacity of the lock chambers. The length of the lock chamber from the lower gate to the breast wall is 310 feet, which considering the operation of the gates, will permit the locking of a barge 300 feet long. The width of the lock chambers was planned to be 45 feet and this practically has been accomplished. Since the width of the United States Government lock at Troy, at the eastern terminus of the canal system, is only 44.44 feet, such width must govern.

The largest vessel, therefore, which may pass through the canal, taking up the full capacity of the lock chamber, must not exceed 300 feet in length nor 42 feet in width.

The maximum draft should not exceed  $9\frac{1}{2}$  feet while the boat is in motion. This latter dimension is suggested in view of the necessity of having a fair cushion of water underneath the keel of a heavily laden barge to insure its moving at a reasonable rate of speed. Furthermore, on account of the possibility of obstructions existing in a channel hundreds of miles in length, a fair margin of safety should be provided. As a matter of fact, boats having a greater draft than  $9\frac{1}{2}$  feet would be subject to delay at the canal's eastern outlet, for the reason that according to official information, the depth of the Hudson river channel between Troy and Albany does not exceed ten feet at ordinary low tide.

The height of vessels above the water line should not exceed 15 feet in order that they may pass safely under the fixed bridges.

A freight-carrying barge of the dimensions given above, would have a capacity of approximately 2,800 tons, and could pass through the canal from the Great Lakes to Seaboard. To do so, however, special regulations would need to be observed in the land sections of the new canal where a 75-foot width of channel only has been provided.

I am inclined to doubt, however, the commercial possibilities of so large a craft. I am not confident that barges of the maximum dimensions would prove profitable to their owners for general commercial use. Without intending to appear as an authority in such matters, from my knowledge of the general conditions, I am inclined to believe that a much smaller boat can be used to the greatest advantage. I am not prepared to advise as to the exact type or dimensions but have submitted the following suggestions for the use of those who may have the matter under study:

(1) A barge 150 feet long, 21 feet 4½ inches wide, draft 8½ feet to 9 feet, with a carrying capacity of 600 tons. Such craft may be operated in fleets of four; and if one of the four were equipped with power, the fleet could pass through the locks at one time. In navigating the canal, the power boat would push one barge and tow two. The freight-carrying capacity of the power boat would be approximately 445 tons, giving a total capacity to the fleet of 2,245 tons, the motive power to be double engines of the internal combustion oil-burning type. Steam engines may also prove suitable.

(2) Many of those who favor a freight-carrying barge of the dimensions given in the foregoing paragraph, contend that the power should be confined in a separate towboat and that it should not be planned to have the power boat carry freight as well. It is argued that the manipulation of the fleet would be more convenient if a separate tug or towboat were used rather than a power boat of so great a length. There is much to be said in favor of such plan.

(3) A barge 207 feet long, 38 feet wide with a draft of 9 to 9½ feet. Such a craft would be operated singly, and would contain its own motive power.

(4) A barge 102 feet long, 21 feet wide with a draft of 6 feet. Such type may be operated in fleets of 5 or 6 with a towboat or power barge. With a draft of six feet, they would be available for use on Canadian waterways north of Lake Champlain and might carry freight to and from the St. Lawrence River.

The new boats may be of steel, wood or concrete, as their designers prefer. The advantage of the use of steel or wood on the inland waterways already has been demonstrated; and from information presented to the department, it would seem that reliable tests also have been made with concrete barges.

As to steel construction, it is my opinion that should the barge be of the dimensions first above described, that is, of a length of at least 150 feet, and a proportionate width, it may be used safely upon all waters outside of the canal system, excepting the high seas. As a matter of fact, evidence is on record in the department as to the experience had with fleets of steel canal boats of the 98-foot type, which were operated with profit to their owners on the Great Lakes and upon the waters in and about the Philippine Islands.

As to the use of concrete, a plan recently filed in the Department shows a barge built of this material, reinforced, 100 feet in length and approximately 21 feet in width. The designer states that 10,000 cubic feet of cargo space would be above deck with 5,000 cubic feet in the hold, and recommends the boat for the carrying of miscellaneous freight. In addition to bulkheads forming water-tight compartments, chambers are provided fore and aft, for the accumulation of drainage coming from leakage or injury to the hull. The hulls are constructed in cellular form with longitudinal channels connecting with the sump wells at either end of the barge, and its designer claims it is practically non-sinkable.

As I have stated in previous reports, the real solution of the problem must await actual experience with the new conditions. The Department has endeavored to stimulate discussion of the subject and is placing at the disposal of intending boat builders all the data that it has been able to collect.

NAVIGATION

The Erie, Oswego, Champlain and Cayuga and Seneca Canals were opened to navigation at 12 o'clock noon of May 15th and the Black River Canal at noon of June 1st.

Boats bound through the Erie canal from Troy to Buffalo followed the improved canal as far westerly as New London, where they were passed into the unimproved channels by means of a junction lock. From such point they proceeded westerly, using portions of both the new and old channels.

The enlarged route between Lake Ontario at Oswego and the Hudson River at Troy was placed in commission for the first time. Boats bound from Troy to Oswego followed the line of the improved Erie Canal to and across Oneida Lake; thence through the canalized Oneida River to its junction with the improved Oswego Canal at Three River Point; thence northerly to Lake Ontario.

At the beginning of the season some difficulty was experienced by navigation in the section of the new channel at the eastern end of Oneida Lake. The soil in this vicinity is composed of fine sand which silts in large quantities into the excavated prism. After much dredging during the first few weeks of the season, a channel of proper depth and width was provided. In my opinion the maintenance of the required depth in this section of the canal will ever remain a problem. The soil is of a most unstable nature and it seems certain that dredging operations must be vigorously progressed during each spring and early summer until such time at least as the growth along the shores will prevent the filling in of the channel.

The mechanical structures on the new system were maintained throughout the season in a perfect operating condition. Not a single case of detention on account of them was reported.

There were a few interruptions to traffic but, in each case, the circumstances were beyond the control of the Department.

In June excessive rainfall throughout the Mohawk valley and the watershed tributary to it, and in the Tonawanda River and the canalized Hudson river, caused abnormally high water. On June 11th the water rose rapidly, completely submerging several of the locks west of Amsterdam in spite of the fact that the top gates of the movable dams were immediately opened. On June 9th high water conditions prevailed in the Tonawanda River and continued until the 12th. The canalized Hudson River was affected also on June 12th and the elevation of the water continued at an abnormal stage until the 15th. Approximately four days elapsed before the waters subsided sufficiently to permit the passage of boats through the river channels. Some damage was done by the flood to the concrete wall at Little Falls, the repairs of which were progressed between June 21st and June 23d.

On July 27th what appeared to be a serious leak was discovered in the concrete bottom of the basin at Little Falls, and to avert the possibility of considerable damage the level was immediately drawn. Repair work was started promptly and completed on August 2d.

Again, in October, excessive rainfall occurred in the western part of the State, causing the canalized Tonawanda River to reach a flood stage. High water continued from October 25th to November 3d.

While announcement was made of the closing of the Erie, Oswego, Cayuga and Seneca, and Black River Canals on November 15th, canal traffic did not cease on that date on the Erie and Oswego Canals, since I had given public notice that, so far as the new channels were concerned, the locks would be operated until the waterways were actually closed by ice. It is my belief that no limitation should be fixed on the length of the season, other than that imposed by weather conditions. Owing to the fact that channel markers and buoy lights must be removed before the coming of actual winter weather, it is advisable to fix a date to mark the official closing of the season, with the understanding that while every assistance would be given to craft to make safe passage after such time, the same assurances of good navigable conditions could not be given after the closing time as were extended during the official season. Many craft availed themselves of the extension and traffic continued on the Erie, Oswego and Champlain Canals until December 1st.

With the new canal system entirely completed and in operation, I see no reason why it should not be ready for use each year by the first of April and continue navigable until December 1st, thus giving a season of eight months.

Aside from the brief periods of high water, the conditions of navigation on all of the canals were excellent and it is a matter of regret that the splendid facilities offered were not utilized to a greater extent.

USE OF CANALS BY GOVERNMENT BOATS

During the last two weeks of November the newly completed Oswego-Troy route was used to advantage by the Federal government in passing boats intended for its use, from the Great Lakes to Seaboard. These boats were of the type commonly known as "submarine chasers" and were constructed at various ship yards on the Great Lakes. Realizing the necessity for their prompt delivery on the coast, I caused officials of the Department to accompany them through the canal, with the result that each boat made the trip in something less than three days, traveling by daylight only. All of the craft reached destination, except two, which were so late in entering the canal that by the time they reached Little Falls the waterway had been entirely closed by ice of considerable thickness.

The passing of the government vessels so promptly and safely through the new channel was the subject of much commendation by the Federal authorities having jurisdiction over them.

MILITARY PROTECTION OF CANAL STRUCTURES

Since the declaration of war by the National government against Germany, military guards have been stationed at all of the canal locks, dams and other important structures. Visitors to them were forbidden. A system of passes was adopted by the Department, and no person was permitted to go upon a canal structure without having actual business to transact. Every effort was made to make the soldiers as comfortable as possible, especially at the outlying posts.

CANAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

On July 1st, there was issued a complete set of rules and regulations governing the navigation of the canals, which had been adopted by me pursuant to the provisions of Section three of the Canal Law. Contained in the same pamphlet are extracts from the various statutes having to do with navigation. The contents of the booklet make plain to all canal users the rules which must be obeyed in navigating the canal, so that the general interests of navigation may be protected.

DESCRIPTIVE BOOKLET

In line with the campaign inaugurated by the department to give the widest publicity to the canal and its advantages, on October 1st I issued a pamphlet describing in general terms the new canals. The booklet contains answers to questions which are daily asked concerning the new waterways, and at the same time presents in concise form practical information concerning them. Data is supplied as to the location of every municipality in the State on or near the canals, the location of each lock, with general references to matters of interest pertaining to them. With the booklet is furnished a small map giving a general but comprehensive view of the entire canal system and its relation to the cities and counties of the State. Large demand has arisen for copies and I feel that it has done much to acquaint the citizens of the State with their inland waters.

STATE AID IN TOWING BOATS

In my report submitted to you in January last I referred to the furnishing of towage on completed sections of the new canal. I pointed out to you that when the Champlain and Oswego Canal routes had been thrown open to navigation, boatmen had adapted themselves to the new conditions and no tugs had been provided by the State, but that on the Erie Canal demand had arisen on the part of boatmen that until the entire route was completed and placed in commission the State should furnish motive power.

The basis for such request was the absence of towing path facilities on the sections which had been completed. They urged that the furnishing of tugs was but a fair substitute for the towing path, and that since all of the main line was not ready, the maintenance by them of their livestock for use on a portion of it would be a hardship.

The policy of furnishing free towing service was begun in 1914 when tugs were chartered by the Department for towing the old type canal boats on a stretch of new canal in Wayne County, and a short section in the canalized Mohawk River near Vischer's Ferry. The service was continued in 1915, when approximately 17 miles of new channel west of Waterford was placed in commission, with some 25 miles on the Western Division; and again, in 1916, although the entire canalized Mohawk River from Waterford to a point beyond Little Falls, a distance of 86 miles, was used. In each case the necessary funds were provided by special acts of the Legislature, as follows:

Chapter 248 of the Laws of 1914, providing $40,000 for a towing area of approximately 24 miles in length.

Chapter 283 of the Laws of 1915, providing an appropriation of $35,000, which, with an unexpended balance, covered a towing area of approximately 37 miles in length.

Chapter 255 of the Laws of 1916, with an appropriation of $45,000, covering a towing area of approximately 106 miles.

Chapter 237 of the Laws of 1917, with an appropriation of $150,000, providing towing for the entire length of canal, approximately 342 miles, with a charge of 20 cents per mile per boat.

In submitting this matter to you previously I have consistently taken the position that the question as to whether or not towing service should be extended is one of legislative policy. It should be kept in mind that the new canal was not constructed for the use of boats propelled by animal power. While there may be considerable merit in the request that towing service be furnished on short, isolated sections of the new channel, no sound reason exists for providing motive power on a long stretch of canal extending from its terminus. This was my general recommendation in the past several years.

In my report of a year ago I showed that at the opening of the season the line of the new canal would be ready for use from the Hudson River as far westerly as New London, a distance of 121 miles, at which point boats would pass into the unimproved channel; and that from New London to Buffalo towing path facilities existed, excepting on a 25-mile stretch in Wayne county. The question as to whether or not towing service should be provided on such isolated stretch of 25 miles was presented to you for determination, without recommendation; but as to the remaining portion of the route, that is, the continuous stretch of 121 miles between New London and the Hudson River, I gave it as my belief that the time had come when those using the new system should adapt their boating equipment to the new conditions.

The making of provision for towage, however, was urged by boatmen and commercial organizations, and representatives appeared before you and this Department. They showed that more than 200 of the present type boats, which had been used in New York harbor for lighterage purposes, would return to the business of carrying canal freight, and that their use was absolutely necessary to relieve the freight congestion which at that time was assuming large proportions. They argued that if the State should provide towing tugs for the entire length of the canal, that is, between Waterford and Buffalo, and should make a nominal charge therefor, the net cost to the State would be not more than the expense of a free towing service between Waterford and New London. It is true there was every indication a year ago that much use would be made of the canal and that the tonnage offered for shipment over the waterways would be very large.

As a result of the discussions had, your honorable body enacted Chapter 237, which carried an appropriation of $150,000 and authorized the Superintendent of Public Works to provide suitable facilities for the towing of boats over the full length of the Erie Canal during 1917, and that a fee not to exceed 20 cents per boat per mile should be charged. Bids for furnishing the tugs were at once advertised for and the contracts were awarded to the low bidders. The canal line was divided into seventeen sections and as many tugs were secured. The number was later reduced to sixteen.

The canal business, however, did not develop according to the indications of the previous winter, the probable reasons for the falling off being discussed in previous pages. Of the amount appropriated, $130,169.95 was expended, against which may be set off the sum of $32,757.37, the total of the collections, and the sum of approximately $17,000 which otherwise would have been expended for towing path repairs. The maximum towage fee fixed by the Legislature was slightly less than one-half of the actual cost of the service.

No efficient system, however, could be devised. With a tug assigned to each of sixteen towing areas, requiring 24 hours to traverse both ways, delays to boats were inevitable. On arriving at any terminal area, should the tug be busy elsewhere, hours of delay were inevitable, and when such delay was repeated at other towing areas the result was unsatisfactory.

Suggestions for betterment of the service were invited from all, and several plans were tried. After some weeks' experience I realized that no towing service could be efficient which did not provide for the towboat remaining with the barges from the time they entered the canal until they reached their destination. No other plan can prove successful. Had a larger amount of freight been transported on the canals the boat owners would have been compelled to supplement the State tugs with other power boats, as the type of towboat used is capable only of towing five and possibly six barges. There can be no successful use of the new canal system by any barge owner unless he is able to control the necessary motive power for the entire trip.

During midsummer, notwithstanding the provisions of the statute providing for the service, I gave serious consideration to the abandonment of the towing system. After correspondence with Federal authorities, there appeared to be indications of the use of the canal for grain shipments, and in view of the protests received against my proposed action I permitted the service to be continued.

The methods which must be adopted for a successful freight-carrying business on the canal are thoroughly discussed in another part of this report. A profitable canal business does not include dependence on the State for towing.

I, therefore, renew the recommendations made by me in 1915 and 1916, that those using the new waterways must adapt themselves to the conditions prevailing upon them, and that the policy of furnishing towing service be abandoned by the State.

THE PRIZE LOCK

The distinction of being the "prize lock" for the season of 1917 was conferred on Lock No. 8, Champlain Canal, located at Fort Edward, while honorable mention was given to Lock No. 3, Oswego Canal, at Fulton. The winning lock was in charge of J. W. Moore, lockmaster, and L. H. Post, assistant lockmaster.

In addition to the privilege of erecting and maintaining a sign proclaiming the structure as the "prize lock" for the season, a small increase of salary was given to each of the members of the lock crew, to be held until the award for the following year has been made.

The competition instituted by me in 1915 has been uniformly successful. The men have entered it with zest and a keen friendly rivalry has been manifest. The mechanical parts of each lock have been kept in perfect condition and the premises about the structures have been beautified in the most skillful manner. Nothing was supplied by the Department in the way of allowances, all improvements to the grounds, the planting of flower beds and shrubbery being done by the men themselves.

The entire lock organization of the Department is to be congratulated, not only on its efficiency, but also on the careful, painstaking manner in which the men have protected the State's property.

The prize lock competition now stands as follows:

Year	Lock	Canal	Location
1915.....	28-B	Erie	Newark
1916.....	11	Champlain	Comstock
1917.....	8	Champlain	Fort Edward

MAINTENANCE OF UTICA CANAL LEVEL

Chapter 746 of the Laws of 1911, providing for the furnishing of terminal facilities for Barge Canal traffic, in Section 4, contains the following provision:

“The present Erie Canal between Rome and Mohawk shall be retained at not less than its present dimensions, and all structures, locks, bridges and docks thereon, shall be maintained and operated by the State for terminal purposes”.

Under this section, in addition to the main line of the Erie Canal, which passes through the northerly limits of Utica, a parallel canal, some 30 miles in length, is continued for the use of the present type of boats. To carry the statutory plans into effect locks were constructed at Rome and Mohawk for the purpose of making connections with the main route at these points. These locks were completed in July last.

I at once caused the feeding of water into the level to be begun. No provision had been made for additional feeders, and with the flow of the water from the west shut off by reason of the opening of the new canal line, Oriskany Creek, the sole tributary to the canal, was found entirely inadequate to maintain a proper boating level.

The feeding was continued steadily for weeks without result. Although it was possible to maintain a depth of water sufficient to float boats between Mohawk and Frankfort, the level through the city of Utica continued three feet below what was required.

Only once was the Department successful in raising the water in Utica to a proper elevation, due to the fact that an excessive rainfall had occurred the previous night. Immediately following, the water gradually lowered until it became too shallow for the use of boats.

All of the water which could be drawn from the feeder at Oriskany was discharged into the canal. Employees were maintained at the gates continuously and every method which could be devised of husbanding the feed was adopted. Becoming convinced, after nearly two months of constant effort, that it was a physical impossibility to fill the level with the means available, I called upon the State Engineer and Surveyor to study the situation for the purpose of ascertaining what should be done to provide and maintain a navigable depth of water in such section of the canal.

As a result of the studies made by that official, it was determined that the flow of water which might be expected from the Oriskany feeder was grossly inadequate and that other means must be found to provide and maintain a navigable level. Two methods were suggested:

1. By the construction of electrical pumps at Rome, for securing water from the improved canal channel. According to the State Engineer and Surveyor the estimated cost of furnishing and installing three electrical pumps, together with the construction of the pumphouse and the connecting pipes and valves would be $30,000, and the annual cost of operation of such equipment during the canal season would be approximately $22,000.

2. By the construction of a dive culvert from the unimproved canal north of the north junction lock at Rome, underneath the improved channel and into the level of the old canal south of the south junction lock. The cost of building such structure was estimated at approximately $50,000.

Another question which arose was in connection with the operation of the eight lift bridges spanning the canal in the city of Utica and one in the village of Ilion. Those in Utica are located at John, Genesee, Broad, Whitesboro, Washington, Schuyler, Seneca and Hotel Streets. Previous to 1917 all of the structures were operated at the expense of the municipalities, excepting that at Hotel Street, Utica, which was made a charge against the State. Early in the year the city of Utica notified me that it would no longer pay the operating expenses of any of the lift bridges, claiming that under the provisions of the Terminal Act, which provided that it was relieved of such expense. Litigation on the question of liability for the operating expense followed, and while the same has not been carried to final conclusion, according to the court decision thus far rendered, the expense of the cost of operating the bridges at Washington and Seneca Streets, in addition to that at Hotel Street, has been placed upon the State. The application of such ruling would mean that the cost of the canal level at Utica to the State would be increased annually by approximately $5,000.

"All structures, locks, bridges and docks thereon, shall be maintained and operated by the State for terminal purposes"

The future of this portion of the old canal should receive your careful consideration. I am not familiar with the studies or discussions which led to the inclusion in the Terminal Construction Act of a provision for the maintenance of a 30-mile section of old canal parallel to the new channel, but it may be assumed that at the time the measure received approval it was with the belief that the waterway between Rome and Mohawk could be maintained in its unimproved state without great additional cost to the State. No provision was made for the expenditure of moneys to carry the plan into effect. Probably no expense was had in mind, excepting the necessary connections at Rome and Mohawk by means of the junction locks. As the matter stands now, if navigation is to be established upon it, appropriations of moneys must be immediately made to secure an adequate water supply, either by the installation of electrical pumps, at a construction cost of $30,000 and an annual maintenance cost of $22,000, or by the building of a dive culvert at a cost of approximately $50,000; and, in addition, it is possible that further sums of money must be set aside for the operation of at least two of the lift bridges, the expense of which had heretofore been borne by the city.

In connection with the whole matter I call your attention to the concurrent resolution adopted by your honorable body at your last session, proposing an amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, which if approved by the people will permit the disposal of a portion of the existing canal in the city of Utica between the easterly line of Schuyler Street and the easterly line of Third Street, provided that a flow of sufficient water from Schuyler Street to Third Street to feed that portion of the canal east of Third Street be maintained.

It is assumed that the purpose of this amendment is to make possible the filling in of the section of canal between the streets mentioned and the carrying of the water easterly by means of a culvert. Such plan, if adopted, will block the use of the canal for navigation between Rome and Mohawk, as proposed in the Terminal Act, and in doing so, it destroys for practical commercial uses the whole of the waterway between those points. In my opinion it is tantamount to abandoning the whole stretch for navigation purposes.

In any study, therefore, that may be given to the question of appropriating moneys for securing an adequate water supply, as referred to above, careful consideration should be given to the effect of the concurrent resolution of 1917, should it receive the people's approval at the coming general election.

Without the use of the old canal between Rome and Mohawk the city of Utica would not be deprived of opportunities for canal shipments. The improved channel passes through the northerly outskirts of the city and a splendid harbor and terminal has been constructed by the State in the vicinity of North Genesee Street and has been in use during the past season.

BARGE CANAL IMPROVEMENT WORK

During the year 1917 the following contracts for the improvement of the Erie, Oswego and Champlain Canals, as provided under Chapter 147 of the Laws of 1903 and amendatory laws, were completed.

On the Erie Canal, Contracts Nos. 2-G, 20-D, 30-A, 43, 46-A, 51, 59-A, 74, 118, 120, 129, 135, 145, 150, 153, 157, 158 and 162.

On the Oswego Canal, Contracts Nos. 39 (Three River-Fulton), 103 and 139 (below Lock 8, Oswego).

Contracts 20-D and 30-A, completed work referred to in my previous report as remaining to be done. The work finished during the past season consisted of dredging in the vicinity of Cranesville and Rotterdam, and excavating in sections of the old canal east of Mohawk.

During the winter of 1917, under authorization of the Canal Board, I took up with my Department forces the re-dredging of the site of what was formerly known as Barge Canal Contract No. 4, located at the easterly end of Oneida Lake. This section of the canal was officially completed some seven or eight years ago, but by reason of the non-completion of connecting sections, had not been used for traffic. The soil in the vicinity is of a fine sandy nature and during the years which have elapsed the excavated prism had almost completely filled. Operations were begun early in the spring and steadily progressed until early in the summer, when a navigable depth of channel was provided. In another portion of this report I have referred to this section as one which, by reason of the shifting nature of the soil, will require constant attention, through dredging operations, to keep the channel open for the passage of boats.

The completion of Contract No. 74 on the Champlain Canal has afforded a channel of full width and depth in the Hudson River in the vicinity of Waterford.

Work on sections of the canal intersected by railroad lines has been vigorously progressed, and these have either been completed or are so well under way as to insure full completion by next spring.

On the Oswego Canal, excavation of the bars which had formed was accomplished by the Department forces, thus giving the full depth. Considerable material was removed below Lock No. 8 under Contract No. 139.

On the Champlain Canal, by means of dredging progressed under the jurisdiction of the Department during the past season, a full depth has been assured. The completion of Contract No. 70-A provides a channel of the required dimensions through the rock-bottom section from Waterford to Lock No. 1.

On the Cayuga and Seneca Canal the following contracts were accepted as finally completed: Contracts B, D, F and L.

During 1917 the following new contracts were awarded: Contracts Nos. 145, 155, 141, 153, 84, 122-A, 131-A, 158, 154, 159, 162, 138, 157, 144, 146, 169, 161, 156, 147, 148, 167, 83, 164, 165, 170, 179, 181, of the Erie, Oswego and Champlain Canal improvement, and Contract P of the Cayuga and Seneca Canal improvement.

The most important of these contracts included Contract No. 84, providing for the construction of a viaduct over the Clyde River at Clyde; Contract No. 138, for building a movable dam, bulkheads and incidental work at Rochester; Contract No. 147, for the construction of a bascule bridge over Tonawanda Creek, between Tonawanda and North Tonawanda; Contract No. 164, completing the construction of the canal at various points between Lyons and Newark; Contract No. 165, for removing the Montezuma aqueduct and redredging the canal prism near Fox Ridge; Contract No. 170, for the building of a junction lock and canal prism excavation at South Greece; Contract No. 179, for excavation in the canal prism near Pittsford; Contract No. 181, for waterproofing and repairing the existing concrete lining in the new canal at Little Falls; and Contract No. 83, for completing the canal at Tonawanda and removing the guard lock and cofferdam at Sulphur Springs.

After due advertisement no bids were received for the work of raising the crest of various spillways between Rochester and Lockport, the construction of a new sill at the guard gate at Gasport, the raising of the Spier's road bridge over the new channel at South Greece and incidental work. Under Canal Board authorization the work was undertaken by my Department forces and was progressed until weather conditions made further work impracticable. The unfinished portion of the improvement will be completed in the early spring. The unfinished work on Contracts Nos. 122 and 131, providing for the construction of bridges at Little Falls and Schuylerville, canceled in 1916, was readvertised and awards were made to new contractors under the designations, respectively, of Contracts Nos. 122-A and 131-A. The cost of completing the work will be carefully computed and any excess above the original contract prices will be charged against the contractors and their sureties.

Exclusive of the two canceled contracts the total of the new Barge Canal work placed under contract during the year 1917 is $1,644,234.52.

Action by the Canal Board was found necessary in the case of Contract No. 47-A, which provided for excavation in the Clyde River between the east line of Wayne County and Lyons. Early in the spring it became apparent that the progress maintained by the contractor and his proposed plans for future work would not insure the completion of the contract within the time fixed nor, in fact, by the opening of the season of 1918. The contractor had declined to place upon the work the additional plant which, in the judgment of the State Engineer and Surveyor and myself, was necessary to properly progress the work, he having raised certain technical objections thereto. After a careful study of the whole matter, and upon calling into conference representative citizens of the State interested in the completion of the new system, it was decided, in view of the necessity of completing this section at least by the spring of 1918, the only course open was to secure the completion of the work by placing it under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Works, with authority to secure a plant which was available to the Clyde River and which appeared to be suitable and adequate for the work. Under such authority, in conjunction with the State Engineer and Surveyor and with the approval of the Canal Board, an arrangement was made with the Sherman-Stalter Company by which all necessary plant was to be placed on the contract and the work energetically progressed. The work was begun and satisfactory progress is now being made.

During the past year, and especially since early summer, contracting operations have been carried on under considerable difficulties. The scarcity of labor which existed in 1916 and early in the past year, owing to the European war, became more pronounced after the entrance of the United States into the conflict and the passage of the Conscription Act. Not only was the price of labor materially advanced, but it was found most difficult to secure competent workmen. During the closing months of the year the contractors have been further hampered by the difficulty of securing railroad cars to transport necessary materials for use in their work and in obtaining a steady and sufficient supply of coal with which to keep dredging plants in operation.

No effort has been left unspared, however, by me to impress upon those holding contracts for canal work the necessity for completing their contracts in time for the opening of navigation next spring. I believe that each is making an earnest effort to accomplish this but, in any event, the watchfulness of the Department will not abate until the channel is ready. From present indications I have every reason to believe that, without the conditions in the labor and material markets becoming more acute and the contractors being delayed by circumstances beyond their control, the new Erie Canal channel between Troy and Buffalo will be open for its entire length next spring.

PROVIDING OF TERMINAL FACILITIES

In connection with the work authorized by Chapter 746 of the Laws of 1911, which makes provision for the furnishing of terminal facilities along the canal, the following contracts were brought to completion in 1917: Terminal Contracts Nos. 51, 15, 203, 206, 18, 46, 208, 40, 209, 211, 204, 205, 210, 33, 15-D, 39 and 54. In addition, new contracts were awarded, as follows: Contracts Nos. 204, 205, 206, 36, 39, 54, 208, 44, 16-P, 209, 210, 211, 55, 15-D, 103-A, 15-M, 38 and 201. The more important of the new contracts were the construction of terminals at Cohoes; at Mott Haven in the Borough of the Bronx; and at the foot of West Fifty-third Street, North River, in the Borough of Manhattan. Contract No. T-55 provided for constructing a pier, dolphins and incidental work at Gowanus Bay, Borough of Brooklyn, to be used in connection with the terminal dock wall heretofore completed.

The completed work has furnished storage warehouses at the following points: Amsterdam, Fonda, Fort Edward, Fort Plain, Frankfort, Herkimer, Holley, Ilion, Little Falls, Lockport, Mechanicville, Port Henry, Rome, Schenectady, Spencerport, North Tonawanda, Tonawanda, Troy and Utica. Work is in progress of building similar structures at Albany and Whitehall.

In the absence of completed plans, with my own Department forces, I caused simple forms of derricks to be erected at nearly all of the terminals where warehouses were in place. Every effort is being made to have suitable loading and unloading machinery provided, ready for use during next season.

SPECIAL IMPROVEMENTS

I beg to submit the following information relative to special Acts of the Legislature providing funds for the use of this Department in progressing special improvements.

The work of improving the Canisteo River near the city of Hornell, authorized by Chapter 750 of the Laws of 1913, was brought to full completion.

The contract for the improvement of the Chadakoin River, known as Chautauqua Lake outlet, in the city of Jamestown, as authorized by Chapter 728 of the Laws of 1915 is not yet finished. I have taken up with the contractor the matter of a more energetic progress of the work, and from present indications the advancement of the work will be more satisfactory.

The work authorized by Chapter 717, Laws of 1915, providing for the construction of dikes, deepening and straightening channels along the Allegany River and Olean Creek, at Olean, is nearing completion. The work thus far done has proven satisfactory in that the floods of the past year failed to inflict the damage upon private property which had heretofore been the case. In addition to the dike and excavation work, the work of installing pumping stations is well under way.

Chapter 760 of the Laws of 1917 provided funds for completing the improvement of Ellicott Creek at Tonawanda. Bids were asked for the work, but it was not found possible to make an award within the amount available.

The work of constructing approaches and performing certain grading and paving work on the south side of the Erie Canal adjacent to the new bridge at Yorkville, as authorized by Chapter 752 of the Laws of 1917, was also advertised. Owing to the failure of the village to provide the right-of-way required by the statute no award was made.

Under the provisions of Chapter 753 of the Laws of 1917, contract was awarded for a new plate girder bridge to span the Black River Canal at Whitesboro Street, Rome, and the work has been commenced.

Contract was also awarded for the improvement of Cowasselon Creek in the county of Madison, as authorized by Chapter 781 of the Laws of 1917.

Chapter 626 of the Laws of 1917 authorizes the construction of a concrete culvert over Eighteen-Mile Creek, at Lockport. This work is now being done under contract.

Bids were asked for the removal of the bridge over the abandoned Erie Canal at High Street, Cohoes, as authorized by Chapter 181 of the Laws of 1917. Owing to the fact that no bid could be secured within the funds available the work must be deferred until further appropriation is made.

To carry out the provisions of Chapter 316, authorizing the repair, improvement and preservation of the Guy Park House at Amsterdam, consultation was had with the State Architect. Upon an examination of the structure, it was found that the amount of the appropriation, namely, $5,000, will be insufficient to do all which actually should be done. The building has considerable historic value and such work as has been laid out by the State Architect to prevent further deterioration is about to be performed by the forces of the Department. The structure is in a dilapidated condition. If it is to be preserved as intended by the Act the appropriation of further moneys will be necessary.

The improvement of the dike across the west branch of the Mohawk between Cohoes and Green Island, as authorized by Chapter 780, was undertaken by the Department and has been progressed to completion. The amount of the appropriation was $8,000.

The repairs of the bridge over the Cayuga Lake outlet at Liberty Street in the village of Penn Yan, as authorized by Chapter 766, also were performed.

The improvement of Canandaigua Lake harbor, as authorized by Chapter 756, was advertised, and bids received on January 4, 1918.

The improvement of Bell's Creek, authorized by Chapter 181, also is under way.

Plans and specifications are being prepared by the State Engineer and Surveyor for the improvement of Limestone Creek in the village of Fayetteville, under Chapter 751, and for the construction of a new bridge over the Erie Canal at Hertel Avenue, Buffalo, as provided by Chapter 761.

BRIDGES SPANNING ABANDONED CANAL

The removal of bridges over abandoned sections of the old canal was continued during the past season. Chapter 181, Laws of 1917, provided $18,000 for this purpose on the Eastern Division of the Erie Canal, $15,000 on the Champlain and $4,800 on the Middle Division of the Erie Canal. The work was prosecuted vigorously and during the past season 31 bridges were taken down on the Eastern Division of the Erie, 24 on the Champlain and five on the Middle Division. Included in the bridges removed were several very important crossings within cities. At Schenectady the taking down of the State Street bridge was completed, the cost of the work being divided between the State, the City and the Railway Company. The dangerous Washington Street bridge in Schenectady was also removed under a similar agreement.

At Fultonville the Main Street bridge was taken down by the Department, with the understanding that the State Highway Commission and the village of Fultonville would co-operate in the paving and completion of the work.

The Saratoga Avenue bridge at Mechanicville, which was on the main State highway leading to the Adirondacks and northern points and which was in an unsafe condition was also removed, the cost of the work being shared by the city of Mechanicville.

On the opening of navigation in 1918 a large stretch of the old canal in the Middle Division will be abandoned. Over this stretch are a number of bridges carrying important highways. I recommend that there be appropriated for the removal of the bridges on the Middle Division the sum of $20,000. To continue the work on the Eastern Division, I recommend an appropriation of $25,000, and for sections of the old canal in the vicinity of Rochester which will also be abandoned, I have asked that the sum of $16,000 be allowed.

ICE GORGES IN THE MOHAWK RIVER

During the winter of 1917, several gorges or blockades of ice which had formed in the canalized Mohawk River gave indications of causing damage. The Department kept closely in touch with the entire situation.

On March 24th, the water rose rapidly back of the gorge which had formed near the entrance of Schoharie Creek at Tribes Hill. Through the use of dynamite by the Department forces, the blockade was broken and the ice sent down the river. In the same afternoon, the ice piled up at a point just west of Lock No. 8, at Scotia, but with a small amount of work, it was released. On March 26th, a gorge of serious proportions formed at Knolls, a short distance above the Vischer Ferry dam. The water rose steadily and soon reached a point where the flooding of valuable property, at Schenectady, seemed imminent.

A large force of men was immediately placed on the work and with the free use of explosives the Department was successful in destroying the blockade sufficiently to cause the flood waters to subside. The dynamiting of the ice was continued during the following day and with the application of a very heavy charge the gorge was finally destroyed.

It is believed that the prompt and energetic work of the Department's employees, persisting in their efforts through long hours under the most severe weather conditions, prevented serious damage to private property in Schenectady and vicinity.

ICE GORGES IN THE HUDSON RIVER

By Chapter 312 of the Laws of 1910, the duty was placed upon the Superintendent of Public Works of removing, opening up, breaking or destroying ice gorges or blockades of ice in the Hudson River, south of Troy, to prevent floods. This act was passed following a severe freshet during which high water had existed in the streets of Albany, Troy and Rensselaer.

Since the enactment of the law, the Department has given serious study to ways and means of carrying out its provisions. During the winter of 1910, large and powerful steamers equipped for breaking ice were chartered and, conditions at the time being favorable, were used to advantage in destroying the gorges which had formed. The same plan was adopted in the following year and, as it appears, with good results.

In 1913, steamers deemed sufficient for the work were chartered and stationed at Athens where they might be at hand when emergency arose. The ice passed out however without requiring the use of them.

The cost of securing proper craft and placing them at a convenient point on the river is large and the price demanded by boat owners for the time when the steamers are actually engaged in breaking ice, on account of the inevitable damage to them, is almost prohibitive. During the past four winters, gorges have formed but they were dissipated by natural causes.

To absolutely guarantee freedom from high water is an almost impossible task. In my opinion, the plan of chartering steamers for the winter on the chance of needing them is impracticable, not only because of the high cost but because of the uncertainty of the points where gorges may form and the lack of suitable winter quarters near the probable blockades.

In the river stretches for more than twenty miles below Albany, there are perhaps a half a dozen points at which gorges may form. To make the use of an ice-breaking boat effective, the time of operation must be carefully chosen. It is a physical impossibility for the few boats which are available to the Department to break through several miles of solid field ice which inevitably exist behind the gorge.

At any rate, insufficient moneys have been appropriated to enable the charter of ice-breaking steamers and their quartering for the winter in the upper river even were suitable vessels available and therefore during the past several years no such provision has been made.

The existence of high water in the streets of Albany, Troy and Rensselaer is not caused alone by gorges in the river. The records show that the most severe flood conditions have prevailed when the river has been free of ice. In my opinion, the carrying out of the provisions of Chapter 312 is almost impossible of performance, unless by the almost constant operation of proper steamers, the ice is prevented from attaining the considerable thickness it does. The most practical plan which may be adopted is to keep closely in touch with the situation between Albany and Hudson and when one or more gorges assume threatening proportions, to do what is possible with the use of dynamite. This plan has been followed for the past three years with the active co-operation of the United States Engineers stationed at Albany. During each of those years, gorges have formed and have given every appearance of causing trouble. On each occasion, the Department was prepared when the proper time arose to make use of dynamite, but no action was required. During the present winter, the ice conditions will be closely watched and should any gorge threaten damage to private property by causing excessive high water, the forces of this Department will do what is possible to destroy it by the use of explosives.

In the report of my predecessor for the year 1913, the opinion was expressed that the clearing of the Hudson River of ice gorges which threaten damage to private property is a duty which belongs to the Federal government, rather than to this State. Jurisdiction over the waters of the Hudson River south of Troy is claimed by the United States authorities and in all cases they have enforced it. Should it be found necessary to alter or destroy any structures erected along the waterway in connection with the ice breaking work, this Department would have no legal authority to do so without securing their approval. I renew the recommendations heretofore made to you that the subject of protecting property along the shores of the river be brought to the attention of the Federal government and that the State be relieved of the burden which in my opinion does not rightfully belong to it.

BUREAU OF NAVIGATION

This bureau is maintained under the provisions of Chapter 42 of the Laws of 1909, known as the Navigation Law, the administration of which statute is in charge of the Superintendent of Public Works.

The total number of licenses issued by the inspectors was 449. Of this number, 201 were joint licenses to pilots and engineers, of which 45 were of original issue and 156 were renewals of former licenses; to engineers, 149 licenses were issued, of which 54 were original and 95 renewals; pilots received 99 licenses, 45 being original and 54 renewals; and 50 masters' licenses, of which three were as of original issue and 47 renewals, were issued.

In all, 279 vessels propelled by mechanical power and plying the State waters were inspected by the bureau officials and to which certificates were granted. Of these, 81 were steam vessels and 198 motor boats. Thirteen of the boats were found to be deficient in equipment and in need of repairs. Certificates were temporarily withheld, pending compliance with instructions given and later seven of these vessels were placed in proper condition. The remaining six vessels did not receive the final certificates.

Under the provisions of the statute, a total of $3,806 was collected for the issue of certificates and licenses and this sum was deposited in the State treasury.

According to reports received at the Department, the following accidents occurred during the season to boats coming under the provisions of the Navigation Law.

On May 12th, the steamer "Montcalm" was destroyed at her dock by fire, occurring as a result of the burning of a building near which she had been moored.

On July 14th, the motor boat "Wanakena" was burned at her dock, the fire apparently having been caused by back fire of the engine.

Again I take pleasure in reporting to you that so far as the knowledge of this Department goes, there has not been a single accident on any of the vessels subject to inspection by this bureau which resulted in loss of life or injury to passengers.

BUREAU OF APPRAISAL AND CLAIMS

The work of this bureau has to do with the following matters:

The appraisal of the value of property appropriated for canal improvement and terminal purposes and the making of settlements with owners where mutually satisfactory agreements may be reached, the preparation of the defense of the State against claims brought by property owners on account of land appropriations when settlements cannot be reached, and of all claims for damages presented on account of the construction or maintenance of the canal system.

Where land has been taken for the purpose of improvements, every effort has been made to effect fair and reasonable settlements with owners and avoid litigation. The value of the property has been appraised immediately following its acquisition by the State and negotiations have been begun promptly with claimants in order, if settlement may be reached, that they may receive the compensation due without delay.

In cases of accidents on the canal or where leakage or overflow from the same may have occurred, an examination is made within almost a few hours after the occurrence. The promptness and energy displayed by the officials of this bureau in their investigation of the subject-matter of claims has been most beneficial, not only to the State in its defense of unjust or excessive demands but to the claimant in insuring to him such award as may seem proper and reasonable. Through the agency of the bureau much litigation has been avoided with considerable advantage to the State's interests.

During the year just past, 152 agreements were made covering property appropriations. Such settlements covered 166 parcels of land on 57 contracts and amounted to a total of $429,418.11. Careful attention was given to claimants whose small property holdings had been acquired by the State and every effort was made to have paid to them their just due as promptly as possible, thus relieving them from possible financial embarrassment and as well stopping the running of interest charges against the State. Of the total agreements made by the Special Examiner, 16 covered 18 parcels of land appropriated in connection with the construction of terminals and 136 for so-called Barge Canal appropriations. In the terminal agreements is included one for $273,000 covering property taken at Hallett's Cove in the county of Queens, which superseded a contract covering the same property in 1916 in amount $292,492, the reduction having been made to meet certain defects in title which had later been discovered. Aside from the Hallett's Cove settlement, the agreements making up the total noted above were for comparatively small amounts.

The number of claims of all kinds filed against the State on account of the canal during the year 1917 was 303, with a total amount claimed of $8,229,152.70. Of these, there were 219 with a total of $7,936,986.95 based on alleged damages resulting from the progress of the canal improvement work. Ten with a total of $117,263.70, covered alleged damages by reason of the construction of terminals. Those based on alleged damages on account of the maintenance and operation of the canals numbered 55, with a total of $178,842.05. On account of the appropriation of land for the Rockaway Beach fortification, which work was authorized by a special act of the Legislature, 19 claims were filed for a total of $2,060.

The so-called Barge Canal claims may be divided as follows :

By contractors for alleged breach of contractual relations, 10 claims with a total of $2,085,807.31.

On account of reconstruction of bridges, two claims with a total of $163,300.

For alleged interference with water power rights, nine claims with a total of $1,836,401.06.

For damages alleged to have been caused by flood by reason of the maintenance of the dam at Vischer's Ferry, 15 claims with a total of $83,857.09.

For similar damages alleged to be due to the dam at Caughdenoy, 18 claims with a total of $33,409.59.

For overflow alleged to be due to a break in the canal bank at Port Gibson, 39 claims with a total of $23,499.41.

On account of alleged leakage, overflow and damage at various points along the canal, 80 claims with a total of $343,906.45.

For property taken on account of terminal construction, on which no settlements have been reached, 10 claims with a total of $117,263.70.

For appropriation of lands for so-called Barge Canal purposes on which no settlements have been reached, 46 claims with a total of $3,366,806.04.

The largest claim filed during the year was that presented by the city of Oswego for $3,150,500 for appropriation of lands and structures and for the destruction of riparian rights alleged to be owned by the city along the Oswego River.

There were disposed of during 1917, 647 claims, the claimants receiving awards amounting to $1,180,282.91 as compared with a total of $17,970,856.35 demanded by them.

In the case of 386 Barge Canal claims, the awards amounted to $377,691.17 as against a total claimed of $7,400,941.29.

Awards were made in the case of 28 terminal claims to the extent of $799,459.92, as compared with a total of $6,448,066.48 demanded by the claimants.

For alleged overflow, the amount demanded by 46 claimants was $101,384.38 with recoveries to the extent of only $2,981.82.

Barge Canal claims to the number of 164, having a total of $4,000,111.15, and 23 canal maintenance claims having a total of $19,703.05 were dismissed with no recoveries whatever.

Among the largest claims disposed of were the following:

Claimant	Amount claimed	Amount awarded
Millard & Lupton .....	$242,586.33	$60,000.00
Walter W. Whitman et al.....	162,719.01	20,000.00
A. L. Swett Electric Light & Power Co. ....	75,219.00	22,000.00
MacArthur Bros. Co. and Lord Electric Co. ....	121,609.72	30,946.66
Columbia Distilling Co.....	67,555.00	21,500.00
Bradley Contracting Co.....	1,714,215.50	535,000.00
Salt Springs Solar Coarse Salt Co. ....	455,000.00	140,000.00
Salt Springs Solar Coarse Salt Co. ....	290,000.00
Salina Solar Coarse Salt Co.....	234,822.00	79,200.00
Salina Solar Coarse Salt Co.....	223,000.00
Empire Coarse Salt Co.....	50,000.00	12,730.00

The excellent work of the bureau is a source of much gratification. No claimant has been subjected to undue delay in securing a disposition of his claim. The Department has endeavored to secure to everyone exact justice, while on the other hand those claims which sought excessive amounts have been vigorously contested. Where trial before the Court of Claims was desired, the State has been ready.

In the case of property appropriations, I have insisted that claimants declining to make settlement with the State proceed to trial in order that the large interest charges shall cease and have succeeded in clearing from the Department's records many claims of long standing.

AMOUNTS COLLECTED

The total amount collected by the Department for the 12 months ended December 1, 1917, exclusive of the sum of $32,666.47 received for towing service rendered, was $43,234.84. This amount covered the considerations imposed in permits granted by the Department for temporary privileges of all kinds on canal lands, for the cutting of ice, the sale of gravel and sand, old iron, steel and timber, and other miscellaneous materials. It also included the fees charged for the issue of licenses under the Navigation Law, and for the filing of mortgages and liens on vessels. The total receipts were over $6,000 in excess of the amount collected for similar purposes in the previous year.

Under the policy adopted by me since taking office, of securing to the State a fair revenue for privileges granted, I believe the State's income from these sources will increase annually.

Some of the sources from which moneys were received, in previous years had yielded nothing to the State. It is interesting to note that the total of the Department's collections from the temporary permits issued is more than 80 per cent. of the total salaries paid to the administrative force in the Department's office at Albany.

ADDITIONAL DUTIES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

During the year just past the official activities of the Superintendent of Public Works have been many. In addition to the ordinary functions of the office, your Honorable Body has enacted legislation placing him on the membership of several commissions having special work in charge. Such special work was undertaken and progress made, the reports of accomplishment being found in other documents. As a matter of general interest I give below the work covered by the Superintendent of Public works during 1917:

Authorized by Chapter 717 of the Laws of 1915, to provide flood protection in Olean Creek and Allegany River, in the city of Olean.

Member of commission created by Chapter 506, Laws of 1916, to make investigation as to the acquisition by the State of toll bridges over the Delaware River between the States of New York and Pennsylvania.

In addition to the above, the Superintendent of Public Works has acted as chairman of the Albany County Home Defense Council, and has been active in matters coming before it.

CONCLUSION

Annexed will be found statements showing the details of expenditures made by the Department, as well as a full account of bids received for the various contracts advertised and of the payments made to contractors; also reports of the assistant superintendents and of the superintendents of repairs, describing in considerable detail the repair and construction work performed by them during the past year. ### REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

OFFICE OF THE
ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., December 31, 1917.

HON. W. W. WOTHERSPOON, *Superintendent of Public Works,
Capitol, Albany, N. Y.:*

SIR.—I herewith submit the annual report of the Eastern Division of the canals for the year July 1, 1916, to June 30, 1917, both inclusive.

This division comprises that portion of the Erie canal extending from Waterford to the east line of Oneida county, and the entire Champlain barge canal from Waterford to Whitehall, also the unimproved Erie canal from the southerly end of the Albany basin to the junction of the old Erie and Champlain canals in Watervliet, and the old Champlain canal from the junction of the old Erie and Champlain canals in Watervliet to the lift bridge at Waterford, including the Glens Falls feeder.

On the Erie section of this division the new canal has been in operation during the past season from Waterford westerly beyond the limits of the Eastern Division.

Navigation opened on both the Erie and Champlain canals on May 15th. The Champlain canal was closed at midnight November 30th. Navigation officially closed on the Erie canal at midnight of November 15th, but the levels were maintained for several days beyond this date to allow the passage of several Federal government boats to tidewater, the movable dams not being raised until the Mohawk river had been practically closed by the ice.

There were no delays to navigation on the Champlain canal during the season except that occasioned by a period of extremely high water during the second week of June.

On the Erie canal navigation was delayed by a leak which developed in the bottom of the canal west of Lock No. 17, at Little Falls, on July 28th. The water was drawn from this level and the work of repairs started immediately. Working both night and day, we were able to resume navigation at this point on August 3d.

Twice during the season the buoys marking the channel on the Erie barge canal were put out of commission by heavy rain storms and the resultant extremely high water in the Mohawk river. Large numbers of the buoy barrels and cages were recovered, but in practically every instance the buoy lantern was lost. This has entailed a large expense in replacing these lanterns. I would report that tests have been made of different types of buoys with a view of standardizing on a buoy that will successfully withstand these storms and high water, and it is hoped to have an improved buoy ready for the coming season of navigation.

Terminal derricks have been erected at Troy, Schenectady, Amsterdam, Fonda, Fort Plain, Herkimer, Ilion and Frankfort, and have been used to good advantage by shippers.

A new scow, twenty-eight feet by ninety feet, has been constructed at Waterford for use on the Barge canal, and is now about ready to be launched. This scow will be equipped with derricks, steam hoisters, a clam-shell bucket, etc., and when completed it is expected that this boat will prove a valuable addition to our present floating plant.

A storehouse has been constructed at Waterford, just west of Barge Lock No. 3, fifty-five feet six inches wide by ninety-five feet long, for the housing of the State's inspection boats, most of this work having been done by division forces from plans prepared by the State Engineer and Surveyor.

State Dredges Nos. 1 and 3, assisted by the State tugs Schenectady and Amsterdam, have given good service in the past year. State Dredge No. 1 removed bars from the summit level of the Champlain canal near Lock No. 9, Smith's Basin, cleaned out the canal basin at Fort Edward, removed a large amount of material at the site of the new boathouse at Waterford, dredged out in front of the Schenectady terminal, made a cut through the old canal banks at Wager's, and performed other important work.

State Dredge No. 3 was moved westerly immediately on the opening of navigation and performed good work in the removing of bars that had formed around lock gates and walls, both above and below the locks, at Barge Locks Nos. 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14 and 15, dredged out the basin at the point where Castle creek enters the Barge canal, and other similar work.

Flood gates, dam 3, at Lock No. 7, Vischers Ferry, have been equipped with machinery so they can be operated when necessary, which it is expected will relieve ice jams and flooded conditions which have prevailed in the Mohawk river at Schenectady for several seasons past.

On August 26th last the north tower of the suspension bridge spanning the Barge canal east of Lock No. 17, at what is known as "Fink's Basin," was burned, causing the bridge to collapse into the river. Tugs were sent to the scene and the collapsed bridge was towed out of the channel and to the south side of the river, navigation having been delayed a few hours only. This bridge is now being replaced by a modern structure which it is expected will be open for traffic during the summer of 1918.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I desire to renew my recommendation for the construction of offices on the Barge terminals for the Superintendents of Sections Nos. 2 and 3, Erie canal. At Schenectady, particularly, the offices of the section superintendent are located on the bank of the old canal, the ownership of which it is expected will pass to the city of Schenectady during the coming season, which will necessitate not only the offices but the section storehouses and lumber sheds as well being abandoned. I would recommend that the office of the Superintendent, Section No. 2, Erie, be moved to the terminal at Schenectady.

I also desire to renew my recommendation for the construction of a drydock on the Erie canal, the same to be of sufficient size to handle the barges which will be constructed for operation on the new canal. The necessity for this work is emphasized by the fact that there is now no drydock at any point on the Eastern Division except at Watervliet (Matton's), which will not be able to handle the new and larger boats, this dock being on the unimproved canal.

Good progress has been made in the work of removing bridges spanning the abandoned canals. Among the much traversed bridges which have been removed are those with trolley crossings spanning the Erie canal at State street and at Washington avenue in the city of Schenectady. The expense of this work was borne jointly by the city of Schenectady, the Schenectady Railway Company and this department. These improvements have removed unsightly structures from the business section of the city, and not only are appreciated by all but have enhanced the value of the property in the locality.

I have already recommended to you that an additional appropriation for further work along this line be made available, and trust the same will have the approval of the Legislature.

EASTERN DIVISION — GENERAL REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

During the year 1917 there has been manufactured at the State shops, Cohoes, and delivered as noted below, equipment and repair materials of the following values:

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

During the past season about 250 lineal feet of concrete docking was built north of the Main street bridge, on the summit level in the village of Boonville, to replace old wooden docking.

A new concrete pier was erected for the Dustin bridge which crosses the Alder Creek reservoir in the town of Forestport, in order that the 100-feet span bridge might be replaced with two 50-feet span bridges, adding to the safety of this bridge.

About 600 lineal feet of concrete wash wall was constructed along the shore of Delta reservoir, to prevent the undermining of the State highway by the wash of the waters.

All brush and weeds were cut the entire length of the canal.

Several bridges were framed and erected to replace structures that were unsafe.

During August, 1917, a break occurred in the towpath bank of the canal, above Lock No. 54, which delayed navigation for about ten days. This was repaired and the bank reinforced with a riprap wall.

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

ROCHESTER, N. Y., February 27, 1918.

Hon. W. W. WOTHERSPOON, *Superintendent of Public Works,
Albany, N. Y.:*

DEAR SIR.— I have the honor to submit the following as the report of the Western Division, New York State canals, for the year 1917:

Complying with your instructions this division was opened for navigation May 15 and closed December 1st.

Just as the canal was about filled, the collapse of the south bank at Cartersville caused a short delay in feeding and delayed the passage of boats at that point for a couple of days.

High water at Lockport and in Tonawanda creek June 10th and again on October 12th caused delays, as the locks at Lockport were out of commission. Another delay to navigation of a few hours was due to the collapse of Meigs street bridge, Rochester, on June 20th.

I would respectfully submit the reports of the Superintendents of Sections Nos. 8, 9, 10 and 11, Erie.

Financial tables constituting a part of this report for the fiscal year showing the expenditures from July 1st, 1916, to June 30th, 1917, for ordinary repairs on this division are herewith submitted.

The following is a detailed summary of the repairs made:

All necessary repairs were made to planking of roadways and sidewalks on all other bridges on Section 9.

New trusses were placed on Supner's, No. 46, and Donnelly's, No. 49, bridges to reinforce them.

All necessary repairs were made to Locks Nos. 62, 63, 64, 65 and 66 and lock gates.

Two new balance beams were installed at Lock No. 64 and two at Lock No. 65.

Waste weirs and guard gates have been cleaned and repaired where necessary.

New snubbing posts have been placed at various points.

Culverts have been cleaned and repaired when necessary.

All weeds have been cut and towpath repaired where necessary.

Meigs street bridge, No. 65, collapsed June 30, 1917, under auto truck heavily loaded with crushed stone. One horse was killed, but no person was injured.

The bridge was promptly removed from the canal bed without interruption to navigation.

The section has been exceptionally free from serious accidents and there has been no interruption to navigation.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

The bridges have been inspected from time to time and kept in good repair, although considerable work has been found necessary on approaches, due to unusual amount of rain.

Stop gates have been cleaned and repaired.

New snubbing posts have been placed at various places.

Towpath and docking between Lockport and Sulphur Spring guard lock has been repaired a great deal and much more repairing is needed there.

Culverts have been cleaned and repaired when necessary.

Sand bar in prism of canal at foot of Lock No. 34, caused by wash from lock, has been removed.

The gates at Sulphur Spring guard lock have been closed once on account of high water, and it has been found that a lock at this point would be very useful.

The miter sill and concrete walls of Lock No. 35 are cracked badly and will need considerable attention.

The old locks at Lockport have been kept in condition for immediate operation. Have also been found very useful as a feeder.

The section has been exceptionally free from serious accidents and there has been no obstruction to navigation other than noted above.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

Nothing occurred to delay navigation on this section during the past year. The towpath was kept in good order, scraped and cindered where needed on the section. There were quite a number of washouts during the spring, all of which were repaired, holes filled with clay and the bank riprapped in a great many places.

Under the Arthur street change bridge the bank slid into the canal. This required the building of a new dock and bulkhead in order to hold the embankment, and the same is now in good condition.

The Tug "Queen City" was generally overhauled, also necessary repairs made to scow "Buffalo" and scow "Tonawanda" and the five dump scows.

All bridges were repaired and replanked when necessary. Delaware street bridge had to be replanked twice; new joists were installed on Commercial street bridge, Lloyd street and one section of Jersey street bridge.

Weeds and grass were cut on the entire section.

Report Made to the Superintendent of Public Works by the Inspectors Appointed Under the Steam Navigation Law

STATE OF NEW YORK
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
BUREAU OF NAVIGATION

ALBANY, N. Y., December 11, 1917.

Hon. W. W. WOTHERSPOON, Superintendent of Public Works.
Albany, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.—In accordance with section 27 of article II of the Navigation Law, the Inspectors of Steam and Motor Vessels beg to submit the following report:

LICENSES ISSUED AND RENEWED DURING THE YEAR 1917.

	Master	Pilot	Engineer	Joint Pilot and Engineer
Original . . . . .	3	45	54	45
Renewal . . . . .	47	54	95	156
	<hr/> 50	<hr/> 99	<hr/> 149	<hr/> 201
	<hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/>

Total number of licenses issued during the year. . . . . 449

Total number of steamers inspected during the year. . . . . 81

Total number of motor boats inspected during the year . . . 198

---

279

---

---

Total amount of money collected for inspection and licenses, including balance from 1916, and turned into the Superintendent of Public Works, $3,806.

Vessels inspected, but not certificated, pending equipment not supplied or repairs required to be made: Steamers, 2; motor boats, 4; total, 6.

Repairs were ordered or deficiencies in equipment required to be supplied on thirteen boats and certificates of inspection were withheld pending compliance, but eventually all except six (6) complied and certificates were issued to them.

On May 12, 1917, the steamer "Montcalm" was burned at her dock, entailing a loss of $500. Fire was caused by the burning of a sawmill on the dock.

On July 14, 1917, the motor boat "Wanakena" was burned at her dock at Wanakena. Fire was caused by backfire of the engine. Estimated loss, $2,500.

On August 17, 1917, we received a complaint from your office made by T. C. Gerwig, lockmaster of Lock No. 21, against the steamers "O. F. Soule" and "Duquesne." We held an investigation on August 25th, and reported the outcome to you on the same date.

No other accidents were reported during the year, and we are pleased to report that, so far as we know, there has not been a single loss of life or personal injury on any of the boats under our jurisdiction.

During the year fifteen steamers came in for inspection that we did not have in 1916, and fifteen dropped out. The fifteen that came in aggregated 581 tons and the fifteen that dropped out aggregated 617 tons. Therefore, the deficit as compared with last year was thirty-six tons.

Applying the same comparison to motor boats, thirty-two came in and sixty-five dropped out, making a loss of thirty-three motor boats. The thirty-two that came in aggregated 157 tons and the sixty-five that dropped out aggregated 331 tons. Therefore, the net deficit is thirty-three vessels and tonnage of 210 of steam and motor vessels as compared with the year 1916.

Respectfully submitted,

H. S. LOUCKS,

THEO. T. MERSEEAU,

Inspectors of Steam Vessels.
